

'MARCHER' INVITED IN BY SUPER DIPLOMAT

MONTREAL (CP)—A ban-the-bomb demonstrator, anxious to picket the United States consulate here, arrived at the consulate before a protest march was to start Saturday.

He rang the consulate bell and inquired: "Is this the place where I'm supposed to march?"

Consulate officials assured him he had the correct address and invited him to wait inside until the other marchers arrived.

$400,000 Damage as Fire Levels Colwood Supermart

50 Firemen Fight Blaze

A fire which ripped through a Colwood supermarket early Sunday morning caused $400,000 damage.

Fifty firefighters with seven trucks battled the explosion-racked conflagration for two hours before gaining control.

Shooting flames from the Shop-Easy Foodmart, near Colwood Corner, could be seen miles away as the blaze lit up the dawn. The store, opened in January, 1960, is a total loss.

Cause of the fire—largest in the Victoria vicinity this year—is unknown.

No injuries were reported. Marshall-Weiss Hardware adjacent to the supermarket—part of a multi-million-dollar shopping plaza—had smoke and water damage. A vacant shop in the opposite flank received similar damage.

The alarm was recorded in the Colwood Volunteer Fire Hall at 5:20 a.m.

Twenty-five men and two trucks rushed to the scene.

They soon were joined by 18 Langford firemen and three trucks, and a Royal Canadian Navy detachment of seven men and two trucks from nearby Belmont Park.

'Didn't Have a Chance' Says Chief

Heat of the blaze was so intense normal frontal assault firefighting methods could not be used.

"We were forced to use the heavy brick walls at the sides of the store as protection and shoot in the water over them," said Colwood chief Dick Emery.

There was no hope of saving the building, he said.

"When we arrived it was completely gone... we didn't have a chance."

Two hours of firefighting finally brought the flames under control, but water was poured on the store until 3 p.m.

Countless small explosions of tinned goods sent "shrapnel" flying from the ashes.

Only part of the store remaining is a heavy cement

block safe containing money, coins and store records.

It was opened at 1:15 p.m.

The last Colwood fireman left the scene at 6 p.m.

An official from the B.C. Fire Marshal's office began investigating the blaze with Chief Emery at 1 p.m. today.

Shop-Easy officials who held an emergency meeting Sunday night said the supermarket will be reconstructed.

"We intend to begin work almost immediately," said district manager George Sargison.

He said the new store—larger and more modern—should be completed in four months.

Meanwhile, the 35 Colwood branch employees will be relocated in other company stores around Victoria.

REBEL CHINA TROOPS 'TAKE TO THE HILLS'

HONG KONG (AP)—An independent Hong Kong newspaper today claimed that more than 1,000 rebellious Communist-Chinese troops in South China have taken to the hills to wage guerrilla war against the Chinese regime.

The Chinese-language New Life Evening Post, quoting recent arrivals from the mainland, said the troops have been joined by militia and hungry villagers and had become "the strongest anti-Communist military force in South China."

The report could not be confirmed.

Light Cut Less Than Figured

The reduction in electric light bills for Victoria area residences, set by the new B.C. Hydro, will be even smaller than at first supposed.

On the basis of rates announced Saturday it was calculated that most Victorians using more than the basic amount of electricity would save $2.10 per month. However, it now appears this figure is high.

It was disclosed today that the escalator scale of consumption charges used by the B.C. Electric in Victoria was slightly different than that adopted in the new scale of rates, which went into effect Sunday.

In Victoria, the first phase, on which the highest rate was charged, covered the use of the first 70 kilowatts. Then the charge for the next 225 kilowatts was cut in half.

Under the new scale the first phase, at the highest rate, is for 100 kilowatts, with the drop coming for the next 200.

The result of this is that Victorians formerly paid $9.18 for the first 300 kilowatts.

Under the new scale they will pay $7.90.

The reduction is thus $1.28, not $2.10, as thought in the original announcement.

Victorians will save slightly on the next 400 kilowatts they use, with the new charge being 9 cents instead of 10 cents.

On this basis the maximum saving on a Victoria light bill will work out to $1.68 per month on 700 kilowatts, then drops levelling off at a $1.44 saving at the 795 kilowatt figure.

The following table shows, on a basis of a house using 795 kilowatts per month, the comparison of how bills will work out:

Former Rate
First 70 kw at 5c	$ 3.50
Next 225 kw at 2.5c	5.63
Next 500 kw at 1c	5.00
Total bill	$14.13
New Rate
First 100 kw at 3.5c	$ 3.50
Next 200 kw at 2.2c	4.40
Next 400 kw at 9c	3.60
Remaining 95 kw at 1.25c	1.19
Total bill	$12.69
Saving	$ 1.44

Reds Want to Shield 'New Military Defences'

WOMEN'S PEACE GROUP FLIES TO PROD GENEVA

GENEVA (UPI)—A delegation of 51 women from the United States flew into Geneva today to urge the 17 nations negotiating disarmament here to agree speedily and ban nuclear testing permanently.

Representing the "Women Strike for Peace" movement, the organization includes Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., wife of the integration movement leader, and Mrs. Cyrus Eaton, whose Canadian-born industrialist husband has visited with Soviet Premier Khrushchev several times.

Bombs, Holdups Hit Algiers Again

ALGIERS (Reuters)—The terrorist Secret Army Organization today launched a new wave of shootings, bombings and holdups in Algiers.

After the quietest Sunday this year in Algeria, the Secret Army wounded five Moslems with plastic bombs, a grenade and a sub-machine gun attack and got away with 249, 900 new francs ($49,800) in three armed robberies.

Three Moslems were wounded when a grenade was thrown into a Moslem store on the fringe of the Casbah, another in one of six plastic bomb explosions, and a fifth by a sub-machine-gun burst fired from a car as the grenade throwers sped away.

In Oran, western Algeria, terrorists firing from a car killed one policeman and wounded a second, and other terrorists killed one Moslem and wounded at least six others in machine-gun attacks on groups of workmen.

However, the French Army—in the midst of a stepped-up drive against the terrorists—announced it had captured 38 members of a 100-man Secret Army commando unit which attacked French army command posts in western Algeria last Wednesday.

CAPTURE OFFICERS

The army said seven officers, including a top leader identified as Lieut. Delhomme, were captured when the army counter-attacked after the Secret Army captured the three posts.

Five heavy machine-guns and at least 15 other automatic weapons were taken from the terrorists.

The army high command said ex-Colonel Jean Gardes, sentenced to death in absentia for his part in last year's abortive Algerian military coup, led the gang that attacked the three posts.

'A Brighter Later Life'

—Series Starts Saturday

How do you intend to live in your later years?

There are two ways to grow old, says Howard Whitman, noted writer on human affairs and social problems.

You can sit idly by, slowly dying in your rocking chair, while the world goes on without you.

Or you can live each day to the full, vigorously alive, looking forward to new interests, new ideas, even, maybe, a new career!

In a special series of 12 illuminating articles, beginning in the Times Saturday, Mr. Whitman charts the courses you should follow to make your later years the best and most interesting of your life.

Driving Student Kills Boy

VANCOUVER (CP)—A six-year-old boy was dragged to his death Sunday by a car driven by a woman taking a driving lesson.

Police had to jack up the front of the car to extricate William Arthur and his crippled tricycle. He died on the way to hospital.

RCMP in suburban Burnaby said the 46-year-old woman's husband was teaching her how to park on a shopping centre parking lot when the car lurched across a sidewalk and carried the youngster through a restaurant window.

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Paula Hecker and her husband as Max John Hecker who live about two blocks from the Arthur family near the shopping centre.

Atom Arms Backed By Swiss

GENEVA (AP)—Swiss voters decided in a nation-wide referendum Sunday that this neutral country should have the right to atomic armament.

The male electorate—women have no right to vote on federal matters—turned down nearly 2 to 1 a left-wing constitutional amendment to ban nuclear weapons on Swiss territory.

The vote gave 286,838 votes for the amendment, 537,387 against it.

Specifically, the vote was on a constitutional amendment to ban production, importation and use of atomic arms on Swiss territory.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O God, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ, for the beauty of His birth, the wonder of His message and the heroism of His death. May He be for us more than a memory of the past, a person of history. May He be a living presence within us. Help us to understand His purpose and to serve anew the power of redeeming love. May His spirit be in our hearts and through our lives may He live again. So may the salvation He wrought be a continuing influence opening for all the gates of eternity. Amen.

WIRE BRIEFS

Paret's Condition Grows Worse

NEW YORK (UPI)—Boxer Benny (Kid) Paret, still in a coma more than a week after being knocked out by Emile Griffith, has developed pneumonia, officials at Roosevelt Hospital reported today. In addition, Paret's coma has "deepened," the hospital said.

5 Convicts Scale San Quentin Wall

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—Five convicts, three of them serving only light sentences, scaled a 16-foot wall at San Quentin prison early today with a ladder and made good their escape, prison officials said.

Roads Awash, Bridges Out As Floods Hit Maritimes

HALIFAX (CP)—Floods spawned by torrential rain and melting snow blocked highways, washed out bridges, knocked down power lines and damaged buildings in many parts of the Maritime provinces today.

Damage counted in the hundreds of thousands of dollars continued mounting.

Homes had to be evacuated in several communities, including the New Brunswick city of Moncton. Residents there called it the worst flood in memory.

U.S. Works With Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will finance an unprecedented $2,000,000 medical research program by Polish and American scientists, the U.S. public health service said today.

The program will be the first of its kind undertaken with a Communist country. Some phases are scheduled to extend over a period of at least five years.

'First Step Toward Meet'

LONDON (CP)—Published reports suggest that Britain has finally taken the first step towards calling a conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, probably in late summer or early fall.

Newspapers agree that telegrams went out this weekend from London to various capitals, marking the first official approach.

The Sunday Times says the suggested time-span within which the conference should take place runs from June to September or October.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

Two Indians from Beaver Lake, 68 miles from the forks of Quessville, aroused interest among townsmen, who noted that their complexions were a shade of two darker than customarily seen here. The Indians are guides in the employ of George Weaver, a well-known prospector.

Thomas Harris was sworn in and took his seat in the Assembly, representing Esquimalt town.

The Assembly acceded to the governor's request for a vote of $400 for the establishment of a smallpox hospital, stipulating that it be built near the present hospital.

There was some talk of building a road to Sooke, but the matter was dismissed in the Assembly as of no importance.

MAIN LINE OF CNR CUT

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—Floodwaters of the Memramcook River cut the main line of the CNR south of here today, stopping all through rail traffic to and from Nova Scotia.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

At an "Angry Young Men" seminar at the Gordon Head campus of Victoria College on Friday and Saturday, there was one young man who was angrier than the rest.

Dr. Werner Cohn, of the department of sociology at UBC left the stuffy atmosphere of the first session on Friday evening to inhale a little fresh Gordon Head air. However, as he stepped out of the converted army hut meeting hall he missed his footing and fell headlong into a ditch.

At Saturday morning's session the discussion was led by the doctor with his arm in a cast.

Enjoying a drive on the Malahat, Mrs. Adam Smith—a visitor from Toronto—was struck by the similarity of the entrance to Goldstream Park to the famed Black Forest in Germany.

"The only difference," she said, "is that I've never seen moss all the way up the trees in Germany."

On a recent visit to an anti-aircraft guided missile site on Vashon Island, Wash., Canadian newsmen noticed the site commander, a U.S. Army captain, appeared to be nursing the thumb on his right hand.

"What's wrong with your thumb?" they asked.

"Nothing," he replied. "I just have to look after it."

For all the guff handed out by the bigwigs at headquarters about how they operate everything with multi-million-dollar computers, it all depends on this thumb. It's the one I'll have to use to press the firing button if we're attacked," he said.

Last week was "Know Your Boss Week."

Round-a-bout put in a call to Dowell's Cartage and Storage and asked for the head man, Arthur Dowell. "Who?" asked the receptionist. A second and similar call an hour later received another "Who?"

Really, now.

Not very funny, in the eyes of Victoria Golf Club, was the action Friday night of simple-minded thieves who walked off with marker flags from four of the Oak Bay greens.

The flags, which cost about $10 each, were put into play earlier Friday.

One was recovered by Times district manager Keith Wilson after it had been stuck into the centre of the Roundabout. And that, it seems to me, wasn't a good place to put it because everybody has difficulty around that "green."

What's in a name?

Kenneth Messerschmidt, 775 Middleton, pleaded guilty in city police court the other day to speeding over 30.

He explained to police when stopped that the driver of another car had been "bugging him" and he wanted to show him what his own car could do.

However, the court didn't ascertain whether the second driver was named Mitchell.

Messerschmidt and Mitchell were responsible for two of the fastest and most closely-matched warplanes between 1939 and 1943.

The former designed the speedy 109 and 110 German fighters, while Reginald Mitchell was the designer of the famous eight-gun Spitfire.

The latest speedster named Messerschmidt suffered a $25 fine.

The 1961 Canadian Correspondence Chess Championship has been won by J. F. Cleeve of Fernie, B.C. Mr. Cleeve won over former champions A. Lidacs of Toronto, O. Dravenieks of Saskatoon, and M. Emig of Calgary. Details of the chess association can be obtained from J. F. Cleeve, Box 527, Fernie, B.C.

Threat Clarified By Welensky

SALISBURY (AP) — Prime Minister Welensky said today his Central African Federation might be compelled to leave the Commonwealth if it had a government unacceptable to other members of the Commonwealth.

In his statement, distributed to reporters and the South African Press Association, Welensky sought to clarify his statement in an election speech Friday night, threatening departure from the Commonwealth.

He had been quoted as saying it might be impossible for the white-ruled federation to remain inside the Commonwealth when it became independent because of the manner in which the Commonwealth was developing—especially with its heavily non-white membership.

Welensky said in his statement that his remarks at Broken Hill Friday had been taken partly out of context.

Negro nationalist opponents of Welensky today charged that he threatens to take the federation out of the Commonwealth because he has made a secret military alliance with South African Premier Verwoerd and Portuguese strongman Salazar.

The charge was made by Southern Rhodesia's Negro Nationalist People's Union in a formal statement following Welensky's remark Friday.

How One Woman Lives With Cancer

(Editor's Note—Not long after Mrs. Maurine Neuberger's husband, a sufferer of cancer, died of a cerebral hemorrhage, she too was diagnosed as a cancer victim.)

Her story of bereavement and battle is a dramatic one, and a significant one, too, because Mrs. Neuberger now is a United States Senator from Oregon. As a contribution to public understanding Mrs. Neuberger has written three dispatches describing her experiences. They are published in connection with national cancer month, which began in the U.S. Sunday. Her first report follows.)

By SEN. MAURINE NEUBERGER

MRS. NEUBERGER tells her story

Whenever I look at the statistics of cancer cases for the past year, they have a personal meaning for me because I am one of them. When I look at the figure of 5,000, which means new cancer cases than I had been for a year, so I didn't look sick and nobody could possibly say, "I suspect there was something wrong with her."

Always 'Healthy'

I will tell you what I told my fellow Oregonians. I have always been healthy and considered physical examinations necessary for other people. I had to be coerced into making the annual appointment by repeated reminders from my family and the family doctor. I always postponed the examination until the week before I was to return to my duties in the Senate in Washington, D.C., as the short recess in Oregon was too important to be interrupted by this event.

But this time was different. I had returned from a lengthy trip to Africa with the Senate foreign relations committee, and was unable to overcome a persistent hoarseness that had plagued me during the last week of the trip. I went to my doctor for a throat examination, and he decided that I might as well have my complete physical examination while I was there.

Looks Were Enough

His first examination was followed by a proctoscopy, which confirmed his suspicions, and I knew before the report came from the laboratory that I probably had cancer. The looks on the doctors' faces were enough. In three days, I was in the hospital. I had planned and looked forward to a trip to Arizona with President Kennedy when we would be honoring one of our most revered colleagues, Sen. Carl Hayden, on the occasion of his 50 years in the Congress. But even this pleasant prospect wasn't persuasive enough to delay. When you are dealing with cancer cells, immediacy is of prime importance.

Today, as I go about my

Excellent Chance

I have been successfully operated on. I believe my excellent doctors when they tell me that I have every reason to resume my normal life. My operation and confinement is an episode that is behind me. But I shall be glad to view myself as a cancer victim if telling you about my personal experience will help you to help yourself.

The word "cancer" is difficult for some people to utter, especially when talking to a cancer patient. When I indicate that I am willing to discuss my own experience, there is an immediate outpouring of questions, but the one that lends all the rest is, "what made you go to the doctor?" These same friends had seen me active and even exuberant one day, and the next morning they read of my admittance to the hospital at the University of Oregon Medical School. I was heavier of a serious and often fatal disease," the society says.

Education, research, treatment and limited-home nursing are the aims of the society whose appeal is being made this month.

With completion of the society's new clinic and cohabitat bomb unit in Royal Jubilee Hospital, centennial wing next year, all but research will be available here.

Locally, the objective is $50,000 of a provincial target of $345,000, and is conducted through special names and letter soliciting, and a limited canvass by members of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Campaign headquarters is 530 Broughton.

Argentine Walks Tight Rope

By ROBERT BERRY (L.S.)
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido today neared completion of a patchwork cabinet to get the stalled Argentine government machine going. But he faced major roadblocks ahead.

The quiet, diminutive chief executive, who moved into the presidency after the ouster of Arturo Frondizi, has filled all cabinet posts except foreign relations, economy and the three military secretaries that operate under the defence ministry. Guido's selection of a cabinet after four days of effort still left him with the prospect of an unfriendly congress when it reconvenes May 1. Most politicians turned a deaf ear to a plea for a political truce by the armed forces chiefs who ousted Frondizi and imprisoned him.

B.C. FINALS WEDNESDAY

Saville Wins Again In Plowing Contest

DUNCAN — Joseph A. Saville, Sidney, and E. J. Watt, Duncan, first and second-place winners in the annual Vancouver Island plowing match Saturday at Fairbridge Farm, will compete at Chilliwack Wednesday for the B.C. title.

Top man was Mr. Saville, with 78 points. Former Cobble Hill dairyman now living at Sidney, he has been a consistent winner of the title, and on one occasion reached the Canadian finals as B.C. representative.

Mr. Watts, veteran Duncan farmer, started competitors who defeated experts such as Archie Stevenson and Jock McBride, to win second place with 72 points. He and Mr. Saville will have their expenses paid for the Chilliwack trip.

300 SPECTATORS

More than 300 spectators spent the day at the farm to watch the 25 competitors in action.

Other winners were: Daniel George of Duncan, Indian with horses, 72; Raymond Reimer of Sidney, tractor with three plows, 72; Whaley Mar of Saanich, tractor, two plows mounted, 75; Peter Jones of Chilliwack, tractor, two plows trailer, 76; Eric Hamilton of Duncan, tractor, one plow, 72; Bruce Wilson of Saanich, tractor, two plows, boys and girls under 18, 74 points; Allan Rycroft of Saanich, tractor, one plow, boys and girls under 18, 66 points.

Judge of all events was Tom Hickman of Chilliwack.

RCAC Establishes Civilian Awards

Two new trophies have been established by the RCAF for annual presentation to the RCAF Association, L. N. Bal-dock, president, announced in Ottawa Friday.

The trophies will be awarded annually to the association "Member of the Year" and the "Wing of the Year." Selection of the winners will be made by a standing committee of association officials.

Constable Kills Chief

ROME (AP) — Gen. Mario Tobia, 49, Rome's chief of police, died Sunday, eight days after he was shot by a traffic policeman suspended for repeated breaches of discipline. Domenico Franco, a 36-year-old traffic policeman, is being held.

AMONG WINNERS were Whaley Mar, left, of Saanich, who took three first places, and Joe Saville, Sidney, who placed first in the open event to become "best plowman on Vancouver Island."

Medical Care Talks Resumed in Sask.

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's CCF government and the province's 900-member College of Physicians and Surgeons, deadlocked over the issue of a medical-care plan since the spring of 1960, appear to be making some headway in reconciling their differences.

The two parties emerged Friday night from their second all-day meeting to say they will meet separately to discuss opposing views. They will follow this up with another joint meeting, but no date has been set.

The doctors had, until Wednesday, refused to meet either the government or the commission that will administer the compulsory, prepaid medical-care scheme.

The government, spurned by the college in earlier invitations to meet, drew the doctors to the meetings with an offer of an "open agenda."

"Both parties brought out points for the other to consider," Premier Woodrow Lloyd said as he and college president Dr. H. D. Daigleish jointly announced the future meetings.

REVIEW POLICIES

During a six-hour meeting Wednesday, the first since the Saskatchewan Medical - Care Insurance Act was passed at a special session of the legislature last fall, and the 7½-hour meeting Sunday, the two sides went over their policies and principles.

Mr. Lloyd and Dr. Daigleish said the discussions ranged "far and wide," but that much was on the plan itself.

The open agenda gave the college the loophole it needed to discuss care of the chronically and mentally ill, the aged and those not covered in existing medical insurance plans. The college said should have priority over a compulsory medical-care scheme.

Since the June, 1960, general election campaigning started, the college has opposed the compulsory aspects of the government plan.

Ironically, the plan originally was intended to go into operation Sunday. The government postponed the date to July 1, largely because of the doctors' refusal to co-operate in the plan or even discuss it.

Cuba Cut Off By Ecuador

GUAYAQUIL (Reuters) — The Ecuadorian government has decided to break diplomatic relations with pro-Communist Cuba.

The decision was viewed Sunday as the beginning of the end of a political crisis brought on when military leaders and the powerful democratic front demanded severance of relations.

The government informed the Cuban ambassador here of the decision Saturday night after leftist President Julio Arosemena abandoned his plan to hold a plebiscite to decide whether the break should be made.

Military leaders' demands for the breach led to resignations of three members of Arosemena's cabinet. There were widespread anti-Cuban demonstrations in the country and pro-Cubans stoned the American Embassy here Friday night.

More than 11,000 relatives of hospitalized veterans were overnight guests last year at eight Canadian Red Cross Lodges across Canada.

WHEN YOU BANK...

we simply try to make it easier

Even bank people get annoyed when their customers are subjected to delays. (The line-up on pay days is a favourite example). We know how inconvenient these things are for you... and we're constantly looking for ways to improve them. No bank is perfect—but we try to make the Toronto-Dominion as close to it as humanly possible! Both in the bank and behind the scenes, we feel we really do have the people who make the happy difference in banking... and we'd like to prove it to you.

JOINT ACCOUNTS

A Joint Account is one where two people (very often a husband and wife) have the right to make deposits and withdrawals. It can be a Current Account, a Personal Chequing Account or a Savings Account. Naturally this is a great convenience to the housewife whose husband is often away on business, and to both parties when both contribute to the family income. A Joint Account has many advantages and is easy to arrange. Simply see The Bank for details.

With or Against the Tide?

THE UNITED STATES AND THE European Common Market have recently concluded agreements for reduction of tariffs on many items of trade between them. These reductions took the form of compensation to the United States for changes in certain European tariffs as a result of membership in the ECM, and of mutual rate decreases between the United States and the European trading bloc.

Because of commitments under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the tariff reductions offered by both the ECM and the United States are extended also to other countries having most favored nation arrangements with these traders. Canada thus stands to gain substantially from the new agreements.

Through direct negotiation with the United States, Canada has made some tariff concessions on trade between the two nations. The United States cut tariffs on Canadian exports which for the past three years have averaged $65 millions. In return Canada made cuts on some $63 millions worth of goods received each year from the United States.

But it now appears that this encouragement to trade is minor compared with that involved in the U.S.-ECM bargaining. For as a result of concessions by both of these, which must be extended to Canada too, Canadian exports worth $350 millions annually will benefit from reduced rates of duty. The reductions will be made in two stages over three years.

Of particular interest to Canadian exporters are scheduled cuts in ECM and United States tariffs on aircraft and parts, boiler plate, electrical machinery, paper-making machinery, auto parts, and other products.

It is estimated that about two-thirds, by dollar value, of the normal Canadian exports to ECM countries will be affected by the forthcoming tariff revisions.

Canada has also been carrying on negotiations with the ECM bloc for similar reductions in other fields. Just how far-reaching these concessions may be has not yet been disclosed. But it is obvious that a Canadian government dedicated to high tariffs has been pushed into an environment of tariff reduction agreements for which it was not ready and which it did not greet with enthusiasm.

The tariff cuts are reciprocal, of course. Reductions favorable to our exports must be matched by similar lowering of our tariff wall against foreign imports.

In this connection the words of the Hon. Livingston T. Merchant, United States ambassador, who spoke here recently, are still pertinent.

Mr. Merchant noted that Canada must "assess the nature and force of the present economic challenge and determine its own response"—which is as far as a diplomat could go in inviting Canada to join those countries which "are willing to play a wholehearted part in multilateral negotiations designed to exchange meaningful tariff concessions on a broad range of items."

Let us hope that as the tide of tariff reduction and expanded trade sweeps the free world, Canada will not be left high and dry.

What's Swept Under the Rug?

IN THE DYING MOMENTS OF the legislative session someone raised the head of the Pacific Northern Railway. But the deal that would connect the PGE with Alaska is apparently as dead as a bearskin rug. The head flopped limply to the floor.

Although Transport Minister Westwood stoutly maintains his hope that, like the mails, the rails will go through, he reveals little reason for his optimism. The company—a remnant of the grandiose Wenner-Gren plan for northern development—lost its performance bond of $15,000 last November and seems to have faded from the picture.

As Mr. Harding pointed out, it's

A Hard Look at the Prisoner

ON THE BASIS OF THE BRIEF news item covering his statement, Quebec's Attorney-General Georges Lapalme seems to be swimming against the stream on treatment of prisoners in Canada.

The report says that he has accused the courts of "weakness and complaisance toward criminals" and protested the processes by which die-hard prisoners were "prematurely liberated" by the national parole board. He also objects to lenient sentences imposed on second and third-time offenders.

Some people may accuse Mr. Lapalme of seeking a return to medievalism in the field of crime and punishment. That is not necessarily the case. Mr. Lapalme may be concerned only over the weaknesses and faults in modern penology which give rise to many failures in present-day society's efforts to rehabilitate the wrong-doer.

In recent years the swing in Canada has been away from the Gilbert and Sullivan attempt to make the punishment fit the crime to a more enlightened objective of making the treatment fit the criminal.

The latter seems the preferable

no use joining in Mr. Westwood's hopes of construction "if you can see a gang of promoters is going to drop it because they see they can't make any money out of it."

But the Wenner-Gren bubble was such a shining thing and so much air went into it that the government hates to see it subside entirely. It has blown $8 millions of the people's money into the Peace River dam project as a starter, to keep the bubble bulging, and is now blowing hope into the PNR by hinting that something may still be done.

In any case, dead as it is, Mr. Westwood likes to see that bearskin rug kept in place. Perhaps it is covering a hole in the political linoleum.

course, but it is by no means foolproof. Prisoners, like anyone else, are individuals. They respond differently to different treatment. What is effective with one may be totally ineffective with another. No hard-and-fast system, enlightened or otherwise, is going to work the same for each person.

Most men of a conscience agree with the humanitarian purpose of trying to restore the offender to decent citizenship by making him appreciate the virtues of citizenship and practise them. All thoughtful men will agree that a program which converts the law-breaker into a law-abiding person has economic value, since the costs of crime are reduced when an individual turns away from crime.

But the records read before sentence in our courts reveal the hard, cold fact that many who have been processed through our penal systems are not converted. They are released to prey on society again.

Whatever Mr. Lapalme meant, he has presented a serious challenge to penologists. They have to do a better job than they are doing now to prevent offenders from returning to their old ways upon release.

Revolution in Hollywood?

A RELATIVELY QUIET REVOLUTION is reported from Hollywood. Studies of the engrossing question, "What makes box-office appeal?" disclose that the screenplay—the actual story—is a significant factor.

High returns from a film, it is revealed, are not automatically assured merely because the production is loaded with big name stars—a theory that seemed to apply in the moving picture business for generations.

Based on the widely reviewed "The Guns of Navarone," a New York University survey has come up with the finding that 70 per cent of exhibitors believe the most important single ingredient in its success was the screenplay itself. The writer, it seems, is to enjoy new importance and reward.

This is a gratifying development if only for the reason that too much dependence has hitherto been placed on the "big names." Some of those names were owned by people of outstanding talent. In some cases the "name" resulted almost as much from clever exploitation by the publicity agent.

Let's hope the emphasis on the merits of the screenplay continues. It might even bring the multitudes flocking back to the cinema theatres with some assurance of a good story.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

By B. A. TOBIN

A Road by Any Other Name ...

LADIES and gentlemen. As you know, this is an informal meeting and I have taken the liberty of acting as chairman. I hope it meets with your approval.

First, perhaps, I should introduce myself, although I believe I am known to most of you. My name is Gump. Ignatius Gump. I have helped to arrange this meeting because I felt we must all unite to halt any attempt to change the name of our street. I'm sure that all of us who live in Stinkeroo Lane wish to preserve the name in its uniqueness and full historic significance. We must resolutely reject rumored efforts to rename the thoroughfare. Creation Crescent even though there is talk of establishing a maternity home at the northern extremity of the road.

I may add that I saw fit to invite a number of other citizens whose home streets are likewise threatened by change in this current obsession for new nomenclature. I hope you will all speak freely on this important subject. Now, who is first, Mister ...

Quagglethorpe, Mr. Chairman, 23 Stinkeroo. I am certainly against any change of name. I have lived here for more than 45 years, and I see no occasion, not the slightest, for any alteration. Stinkeroo was good enough for our fathers, and it's good enough for us.

Admirably put, Mr. Quagglethorpe. I thoroughly agree. Anyone else?

Mudstick. I wish to register a very definite "no" against any ...

Pardon me, Mr. Mudstick. For our records, how do you spell that?

M-u-d-d-l-e-s-l-i-n-g-t-o-n hyphen T-d-h. Mudstick.

Ah, yes. Thank you, Mr. uh, hmmm, Mudstick. You were saying ...

Unalterably opposed, unquestionably negative, irreversibly adamant against any change in the name. Names, I feel, are ... well, a name is a name, dash it all, you know ...

I know exactly how you feel, Mr. uh, hah, um, Mudstick.

Mr. Chairman, I rise to voice a ... Your name, madam?

Eck.

I beg your pardon?

Eck. My name is Eck, Lydia Eck.

Ah, yes. And your address?

Stinkeroo, Mr. Chairman. We have no number. We've simply named our cottage, Birdlime Dell.

Thank you, Mrs. Eck. Proceed.

I rise to voice a most heartfelt protest against any change, Mr. Chairman. As a descendant of pioneers and a student of history, I feel we should preserve our historic associations, particularly in these turbulent times. The name Stinkeroo goes back to our earliest origins: as you all know, I may say that the original Indian clamshell dump was still in existence at the end of the lane when my grandfather built here, and it would be a shame and a disgrace if the historic atmosphere of the street were to be lost.

Thank you, Mrs. Eck. And you sir?

Alken-Bownes, sir, General, retired.

Address, 17 Hog's Wallow, I fully support the last speaker in her reference to the value of preserving our historical heritage. My own street, just three blocks over from here, is likewise threatened by this silly craze for change. They want to alter Hog's Wallow to Primrose Path—certainly an insipid and characterless cognomen. All of us know, I'm sure, that the road is named after the late Rear-Admiral Hogge-Wallaby, who retired here in 1853, although time has modified the spelling.

You certainly have our support, General. And you, madam ...

Miss Millicent Hatch-Hutch, Mr. Chairman, I, too, am firmly against changing names. In fact I have spent a lifetime in carefully avoiding any change in mine. We of Slobbergut Gardens also resent any move to change the name of our little street and support your move to halt all such efforts. The origin of our name is lost in antiquity, but is believed to have been the nickname of an old Indian chief who inhabited the area. Time has given the name a dignity and majesty that appeals to all the residents, for whom I speak. It has a rhythmic cadence and musical quality that should not be allowed to die. So we cry Slobbergut Gardens forever, Mr. Chairman, and ...

Excellent, excellent, Miss Hatch-Hutch. Very well put. Now, I think the feeling of the meeting is obvious. I ask you all to sign this petition as you leave tonight, and I am sure that a firm front will impress the councils and anyone else who toys with the idea of tampering with the historical and poetical values of our birthright.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Liberal Nominating Meeting

May I comment on the letter in your correspondence columns over Mr. D. R. Wilson's signature?

I can assure you that I have given a good deal of consideration to where the dividing line should be drawn as to those entitled to vote in the selection of a Liberal candidate.

The Constitution requires three years consecutive membership in an Association recognized by the Executive but this has the obvious disadvantage, mentioned in Mr. Wilson's letter, of discouraging new members of the Party at a time when we should be making friends rather than enemies.

On the other hand to leave the list open so that an aspirant for the nomination can sign up people who support him but not necessarily the Party and who may or may not remain Liberals if some other man is chosen as candidate has the disadvantages which he points out in his letter. I do not think it would be fair to close the list without some advance notice because, as can readily be seen, there might well be a good many staunch Liberals of long standing who through absence from the city, illness or even inadvertence had neglected to pay their membership dues for the current year.

I think perhaps the solution lies in having a basic requirement that a person to be entitled to vote should have been a member of a Liberal Association anywhere in Canada for perhaps three years, entitled to vote in the election for which the candidate is being selected, but leaving the matter of payment of dues in order to be in good standing open until the commencement of the meeting.

With the greatest respect I do not feel that Mr. Wilson's comment that persons not entitled to vote participated in the vote to suspend the Constitution is entirely well taken. Had there been any division of opinion it would, of course, have been necessary to have differentiated between those entitled and those not entitled to vote but where the vote was as in this case unanimous it must surely follow I think that at least all those entitled to vote on the motion voted in favor of it.

I can assure you as chairman of the meeting that had there been a single dissenting voice I would have declared that we could not proceed with the nomination at all because persons had joined the Association with the idea of being able to vote who, on a proper interpretation of the Constitution, were not eligible to vote and it had been suggested to me by more than one Liberal of long standing whose loyalty to the Party cannot be questioned that General

Foulkes did not qualify as a candidate, there being at least room for argument that a candidate no less than a voting delegate must have held a Party card for three consecutive years prior to the nominating convention.

I judge from Mr. Wilson's letter that he does not now belong to the Association. I urge him to join. If he will return to me a signed application form with the $1 membership I will be delighted to see that it is sponsored and seconded. I can assure him that as soon as we have the election out of the way it is my intention, if I am still President, to call a special meeting for the purpose of considering revision of the Constitution and I am sure that his suggestions and comments at that time would be most helpful.

As a matter of interest let me say that while the majority of people who attended the meeting seemed to have felt that I conducted it in an impartial manner, I have been accused by rabid supporters of each candidate of having conducted the thing in such a way as to favor the other candidate. I am simply trying to see a return to sanity in government both at Ottawa and in Victoria and I urge Mr. Wilson not to abandon what he basically believes in and become what he calls "... one of those many undecided voters" when what we need is not people who throw up their hands when something seems to have gone wrong but rather one of those who pitches in and tries to correct the mistakes of the past.

GEORGE F. GREGORY,
President, Victoria
Liberal Association

Equal Pay

Give the devil his due, the Hon. Mr. Chant says something when commenting on women's work, and being paid less than men "share" in the Government buildings.

"Men are more able to stir up dust than remove it." This statement by the Minister of Public Works could be applied to all levels of employment, and this could be confirmed by a statement by W. A. Scott, calling all women to unite. "You have nothing to lose but male imbecility."

As the Social Credit Government and Mr. Bennett are supreme in this province, why can't they correct the Civil Service Commission in this breach of justice?

WASHINGTON:

Strictly Hands Off

By MAX FREEDMAN

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S public caution about the crisis in the Argentine does not mask his concern over events in that unhappy country. He is anxious to dispel the impression that the American government has been active in the internal political affairs of the Argentine. Any such suspicion of American interference is totally without foundation. In fact the true situation is very different. Not only has the United States avoided all political intervention; it has on many occasions in recent weeks been wrongly informed or deliberately misled about the ferment in the Argentine.

The story begins with the recent conference at Punta Del Este. Mr. Rusk and other American officials held long and repeated conferences with Frondizi in the attempt to win his support in the general campaign against the Castro regime in Cuba.

Frondizi hesitated and wavered and equivocated. He was afraid that his support of the anti-Castro campaign would bring him into trouble with the socialists and communists in his country.

Under Pressure

He finally sided with the majority at the conference only under pressure from the military leaders who both hate and fear the power of Castro's sympathizers in the Argentine.

Then the election was called. It turned out that the real danger to Frondizi came not from the radical left but from the radical right. The massive strength of the Peronists showed that he had been guilty of profoundly misjudging the temper of the Argentinian people.

A political leader who makes two such blunders within a matter of weeks cannot hope to retain his political reputation. Long before the present crisis his stock had visibly fallen in Washington. From once being the favorite statesman in Latin America, Frondizi had become an embarrassment to the American government. There certainly was no desire to throw American support behind so ambiguous and tarnished a leader.

But there was respect, reluctant yet unfeigned, for the courage and tenacity with which Frondizi struggled for power against his foes.

The main aim of the United States in these last desperate days was to prevent a violent breach with the constitutional traditions of the Argentine. When Frondizi set aside the results of the elections in which the Peronists had scored their victories, he may have acted rashly and unwisely; but he was within the mandate of the constitution.

Different Footing

The action of the military leaders in arresting him and conspiring with various political leaders to fill the vacancy must stand on a very different footing. This action was clearly unconstitutional, even though the military intervention became clouded and uncertain in the final stages of the negotiations with senate president Guido.

At the State Department there is no willingness as yet to pass a public condemnation of the military leaders, even though their role has provoked anxious and justified misgivings. In certain circumstances it may be necessary for the United States to co-operate with them, unreliable as they are, because the available alternatives are visibly worse and more dangerous.

The State Department in short wishes to keep the future open without passing premature judgment on the Argentinian political situation before more detailed and precise information has become available. That explains President Kennedy's caution.

The moderates in the Argentine have enough power to dominate the political situation and to resist the challenge of both the communists and the Peronists. Unfortunately, the moderates are divided and have never been able, since their quarrel with Frondizi, to unite under one leader. Unless they can quickly coalesce, the influence of the military forces will become the dominant factor in the politics of the country.

Avoid Suspicion

The United States wants to shun all suspicion of interference in the Argentine because the Kennedy administration is both irritated and angered by the false and exaggerated reports spread about Mr. Walt Rostow's mission to the NATO council after the Punta Del Este meeting.

Mr. Rostow's report to the council lasted 75 minutes, of which about five minutes, and no more, were devoted to the suggestion that the list of goods banned in western trade with the Communist countries might be extended to Cuba. There was no appeal for an immediate decision by any NATO government nor by the council itself.

Mr. Rostow's primary mission was really to enlist the active interest of the NATO countries in Latin America on a long-term basis, not to win their support for an immediate campaign of reprisals against Cuba.

In view of the misleading reports now current about the Rostow mission and about American policy towards Cuba, the Kennedy administration is doubly anxious to walk very warily in approaching the Argentinian problem.

ULTIMATE PATIENCE

At 2 a.m. in the centre of London mankind seems to have ceased and the buildings are what the sparrows and pigeons take them to be—freakish natural rock formations. ## Kindness That Kills

I was just made thoughtful by a chat with a fine, young woman who, because of her mother's illness, has had to take care of her aged father. Because he has had a couple of heart attacks and because his doctor is a worrisome person who believes in doing everything to prolong a man's life—even if this makes the man's days unbearable for him—the young woman admits that she has been making her old father very unhappy.

He has always been so active, and now even in his seventies, and he wants to stay active. He is bored stiff sitting around the home. Because he has had heart attacks, the daughter tells her father he must not go out and walk up and down the street; in winter she won't let him out because she thinks it is too cold for him.

She won't even let him wipe the dishes for her, as he would much like to do. She won't let him help her with the cleaning around the house. What makes it particularly hard for the old man is that he is not a reader, and he is not fond of television. Naturally, for much of the day, he is bored.

What makes him still more miserable is that his daughter leaves all the salt and practically all of the fat out of his food, and hence it has no taste. He is allowed no gravy on his meat and no cream or butter on anything. Because of her fear of cholesterol, she refuses to give him the eggs which he would so enjoy for breakfast. He would like to visit with another old man, but his daughter won't let him walk upstairs.

Now, her father is saying he might as well be dead; he might as well commit suicide, because his life is so unbearable, his food is so unpalatable, and he hasn't a thing to do. His daughter even took away his pipe—his one great comfort—because the doctor thought that tobacco might injure his heart.

I'll never forget the two handsome women of 45 or 50 who came in with their old father who was over 80. He, obviously, was a very spry old man for that time of life, but when he got a few headaches and a doctor found a little increase in his blood pressure, he said, "No more tobacco."

When his daughters found him smoking behind the garage, they confiscated his pipe and brought him to see if my authority would be strong enough to keep him from smoking. They promptly fired me because I put my arm around the old man's shoulders and said if he wanted to smoke himself into an early grave at 85, I was all for it!

I suggested to the young woman who recently came in that she be kinder to her father, and let him do whatever he wanted to do, and to eat anything he wanted to eat. I couldn't see any sense in taking away all of the fat from his diet. I couldn't see any sense in keeping him from walking upstairs or going out in the fall to sweep the leaves off the lawn. As I told her, experts on heart attacks have shown that, in hundreds of cases, all but a few of the spells came—not when the man was exercising—but when he was asleep or sitting reading.

Several of my friends who are able heart specialists always tell their patients that they may do anything that they can do with comfort. Even if they have had a heart attack, if they can walk along the street rapidly without being short of breath, or without getting a pain in the chest, let them do it. They are not doing themselves any harm.

Also, if they want to carry a briefcase, that's all right. Certainly, no daughter should kill her father with kindness. I understand fully why some old men inherit some of their children. The reason is that because of a mistaken idea of kindness, their children were so kind that the poor old man wished he was dead.

BRAZIL INTERVENES

Telephone Seizure Upset

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—The Brazilian government has intervened in the proposed expropriation by Guanabara state of a telephone company controlled by a Canadian corporation. It was announced here today.

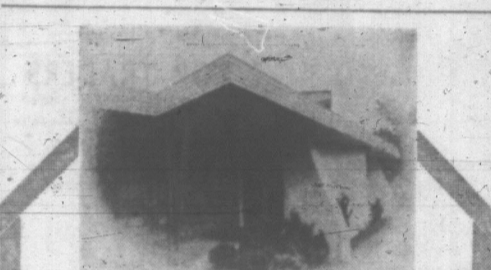

The federal government has appointed army Gen. Jair Dantas as temporary administrator of the Companhia Telefonica Brasileira.

An expropriation plan was announced Friday by state Governor Carlos Lacerda—a political enemy of Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek—on his return from the United States.

He said he would present a petition to take over the company in the state court today. But Sunday it was reported Negotiations with the National Economic Development Bank for purchase of the telephone company's shares were broken off following Governor Lacerda's move.

HOME GARDEN

Spraying Is a Fine Technique

One of the gardening terms which makes life difficult for beginners seems to be "spray with water." How is this to be done?

The equipment needed will vary according to the amount of spraying to be done, and whether indoors or out.

If house plants are to receive a tepid water spray to freshen them, a small hand sprayer can be used to deliver a fine mist.

These small sprayers cost around 35 cents now, and can be obtained from most hardware stores and garden shops.

I have seen exhibitors at flower shows using perfume atomizers to put a fine film of refreshing moisture over the flowers and foliage without disarranging the exhibits or spilling water on the tables.

The small hand sprayer is a good tool to have when pricking out seedlings at this time of year. Providing the soil mixture is slightly damp for the roots of the seedlings, a

Beastall Column
Will Run Daily
Through Summer

light water spray over the leaves will keep them fresh until the new roots are formed and are able to take in enough moisture to sustain the growing plants. From that time on, the soil will need watering, not merely spraying.

Begonia tubers and gladiolus corms which have been set into peat moss or terralite (horticultural form of vermiculite) will be encouraged to make top growth and roots at this time of year if they are lightly sprayed with water using the hand sprayer.

Outdoors a spray nozzle, attached to the water hose will deliver a somewhat heavier spray over the foliage or branches of newly planted trees and shrubs in compensation for the loss of natural intake of moisture because of damaged roots.

The hose nozzle can also be used to deliver a film of water over the leaves of newly transplanted perennials and bedding plants during warm, windy or rainless periods. This, with careful handling in planting, will practically eliminate the drooping, or flagging, which wrings the hearts of all true gardeners.

CARIBBEAN AREAS

Food Give-Aways
Studied by Canada

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—A plan under which the government would make special food give-aways to demonstrate the worth of the World Food Bank is being explored in ministerial circles here, reliable informants say. They say it is likely that if the plan proceeds some of the British dependencies in the Caribbean would be chosen as a showcase with British leave, of course.

As now conceived, the scheme would involve shipment of protein foods to the islands, involved—fish, cheese and other dairy products, rather than wheat where the emphasis is on fats and carbohydrates.

This would be in line with the food bank plan to begin pilot projects in raising nutritional standards. In this case Canada—one of the big promoters of the bank—would supply the food and the bank likely would be asked to co-operate in distribution.

HAMILTON'S IDEA

While this still is only a concept, about six or seven members of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's cabinet are pursuing the matter actively, it was learned. So far there has been no full cabinet discussion of the proposal, which appears to have originated with Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton.

It could not be learned how much food would likely be involved.

Sources said the Caribbean area was the most likely choice of all potential areas for Canada to "adopt" in any bilateral scheme. It is close to home and a key market for Canada.

Confining the give-away to the British dependencies probably would exclude Jamaica and Trinidad, the two biggest West Indies markets which now are close to independence. That would leave as recipients of Canadian food the smaller islands in the Leeward and Windward groups.

Naturally, any plan to meet the nutritional needs of those people would benefit Canadian producers. The dairy industry now is plagued with surpluses and the fishing industry with vanishing markets abroad.

Eskimo Education Pushed

OTTAWA (CP)—A bright picture of northern development—but one still shared with lack of education and poor health—was painted today by Gordon Robertson, deputy minister of northern affairs.

Mr. Robertson, also commissioner of the Northwest Territories, sketched a bright future for the 23,000 people of the north with prospects of great mineral wealth and development.

But in his opening address to the two-day meeting of the Eskimo affairs committee he stressed the need for greater education and health facilities for the Eskimos.

Chief concern of the committee is the welfare of 7,000 Eskimos, most of them in the unnamed territory that will be left with the formation of the new Mackenzie territory, approved at the January meeting of the Northwest Territories Council.

Search has been launched for an appropriate Eskimo name for the new territory, a comparatively bleak and barren area covering 720,000 square miles.

The committee, holding its 13th annual meeting, will discuss improved education, housing and health programs for the Eskimos and increased opportunities for employment and new mineral developments.

But the committee—including four Eskimo members—will also consider problem drinking, unemployment and lack of game in some areas and the heavy infant mortality rate.

The Eskimos attending the meeting are Ooljateah of Resolute Bay, Pamiuk of Coral Harbour, Victor Allen of Inuvik and Johnnie Inukpuk of Bort Harrison. They were elected by their communities to represent them at the meeting.

Charles Leaves Cheam

NEWBURY, England (Reuters)—Prince Charles, 13-year-old heir to the British throne, Sunday night said farewell to his classmates of the last five years as he left nearby Cheam preparatory school. After holidays he starts at Gordonstoun, the Scottish private school which his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, attended and which has a reputation for tough and spartan training.

Mr. Robertson is chairman of the meeting which is also being attended by representatives of government and private agencies interested in the problems of the Eskimos.

Said Mr. Robertson of the Eskimo delegates:

"I don't believe this committee could effectively function without their advice."

He was among those urging at the N.W.T. Council meeting that Eskimos be represented on the council of the new territory.

He referred to the formation of the two territories—still to be approved by the federal cabinet and Parliament—and the extension of the franchise to Eskimos of the Keewatin and Franklin districts as significant developments which will "drastically alter and affect the role of the Eskimo, particularly with regard to his contribution to Canadian democracy."

Mr. Robertson indicated that with the formation of the governing council of the new territory the present committee will be abolished.

He said steps are being taken to fill the need for education of Eskimos.

Eskimo enrolment over the year increased from 1,789 to more than 2,000, reflecting the construction of new schools and cottage hostels (lying quarters for Eskimos whose homes are isolated or whose families are off hunting) in virtually all parts of the Canadian Arctic.

What does it mean to be rated?

Not long ago men and women with coronary artery disease, tuberculosis or diabetes were unable to obtain life insurance. Today it is possible for many of these people to be accepted in a special premium classification. Technically speaking they are said to be "rated" policyowners. For many years Manufacturers Life has contributed leadership in this special field. Today we are well known for our progressive outlook and for the favourable premium rates being offered.

Actually 93% of the people applying for Manufacturers Life policies today are accepted at regular rates. Another 5 1/2% are offered insurance at the lowest possible cost considering their particular physical condition, while only 1 1/2% are declined. Whatever your needs, you can be sure of progressive life insurance service when you call the Man from Manufacturers.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Trading was moderate and slightly on the down-grade today as all sections except golds showed minus signs on the index during the afternoon.

Western oils, at one point reached their lowest level this year while some base metals showed a tendency to go against the trend and register fractional gains.

AT TORONTO—Weakness continued to dominate prices during moderate mid-afternoon trading today.

Papers were weakest among industrials, with Consolidated and International each down 1/2, and Abitibi off 1/4.

In base metals, International Nickel and Falconbridge each dropped 1/2, and Consolidated Mining and Smelting 1/4. Ventures and Noranda each rose 1/4. Among speculatives, Toronto climbed 1/2 to 69 cents, Lake Duffield added 10 cents to $5.90, and Northgate dipped 1/2 to $7.05.

Calgary and Edmonton led Western Oils lower, dropping 1/2. Pacific Petroleum rose 1/4 and Dome's 1/2.

AT MONTREAL stocks were generally mixed in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Brazilian Traction was up five cents in heavy trading at $3.30, after falling to $3.40. Shawinigan gained 1/2 to 23 1/2.

Mount Pleasant rose five cents to $2.15 among minis. Bronite Copper added three cents to 29 cents in heavy trading.

AT NEW YORK prices gave ground in quiet trading late this afternoon.

Losses of key stocks went mainly from fractions to around a point. Most declines were narrow and a number of stocks were unchanged.

AT LONDON, following a rather cautious opening, prices became firm today. Industrials responded to a small selective demand and gains predominated.

Gilt-edged securities were somewhat irregular.

Dollar stocks were quiet and featureless but copper shares were dull. Tin shares were mainly lower. Leading oil shares were quietly firm.

AT VANCOUVER, copper stocks were stronger during the morning, oils and industrials quiet. Pesseo moved at $1.19, Bethlehem Copper between $2.27 and $2.30, and Cogehcan Copper up at $3. Giant Mascot went to $1.08. Granduc at $3.10. Kamloops Copper with a high of $0. Mt. Washington Copper up at $1.65. Torwest at $7. Western Mines moved at $2.30. B.C. Sugar sold at $20.

greatest of ease!

Once upon a time there was a housewife who nearly always felt tired out! She didn't rest well—and she had such a backache she could hardly do her housework.

Then one day she read where such discomfort may be caused by the kidneys.

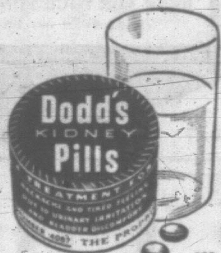

She learned that if the kidneys become sluggish they permit impurities to remain in the system causing bladder and urinary irritation. Backache, tired-out feeling and disturbed rest often follow.

Then she discovered (as many other men and women had) that Dodd's Kidney Pills were developed to help bring relief from just such conditions.

Lucky Lady! For thanks to Dodd's she found relief from backache and that tired-out feeling.

Fishermen Turn Up Safely

CAMPBELL RIVER—Three local men, missing since Saturday afternoon when they set off in a small boat, were found Sunday at Manson's Landing, on Cortes Island, east of here. They had engine trouble, but made their own way safely to shore.

The RCMP launch Masset started a search late Saturday night when the wife of one of the men became alarmed when her husband didn't return by nightfall.

The men, all employees of Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited, were identified as Lionel Harper, Bryan Pope and Robert Graham.

POP ASSURES SON-IN-LAW TO EAT WELL

FOLKSTONE, England (UPI) — Andrew Cairns took very seriously the dictum that the surest way to a man's heart is through his stomach. So he refused permission for his 19-year-old daughter to wed until she could cook a decent meal.

That was two months ago. So Barbara got busy behind her mother's apron strings until she was ready for the big moment.

She put a meal of roast beef and Yorkshire pudding in front of Cairns. The father smacked his lips and smiled. "Now you can get married," he said.

So Barbara and Eric Goldsack, also 19, were married over the weekend.

"She could not cook a boiled egg two months ago," said her overjoyed father. "Now I would say she is a pretty good cook. If Eric has to live on roast beef every day he won't be doing so badly."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

At a meeting of the 6th Douglas (St. Columba's Anglican Church) Group, Norman Copley was given a Thanks Badge for his services to scouting, and Rev. J. Rogers was given a Chaplain's badge.

Application deadline for the Pack Scouters training session, April 28 at Camp Barnard, is April 23. Camping techniques and facilities will be discussed. The following proficiency badges were issued during the past week:

V.I. ROUNDUP

Beach Cleanup Proposed

CAMPBELL RIVER—Harold McKelg, an auto court owner here, has urged a clean-up campaign for district beaches and waterfront.

He said that refuse, bottles, and garbage along the highways and side roads, as well as popular beaches, "is a disgrace."

Many beaches are cluttered with refuse and debris from old logging and sawmill operations.

In some cases, he said, logs and driftwood were piled so high they blocked rivers and streams, preventing salmon from entering them to spawn.

Provincial government, he said, should increase fines to prevent indiscriminate dumping. Waterfront residents should be called on for a united effort to clean up beaches and burn unsightly rubbish.

Government and municipal councils should be urged to make grants to hire unemployed men to cut logs and driftwood, with any wood produced to be given to needy families.

"We could all benefit by bringing back natural beauty to our shores and streams," Mr. McKelg said.

NANAIMO—Upper Vancouver Island Music Festival opened here today with close to 600 competitors registered.

Four halls and auditoriums are being used for the event, and honor performances will be given at Nanaimo Senior High School auditorium Saturday night.

Under its spell one is tempted to say that the last concert in the current Victoria Symphony series is also the best of the series.

But that perhaps, would be unfair. There have been numerous highlights throughout the season.

REPEAT TONIGHT
The peculiar satisfaction of this last concert, which will be repeated tonight at the Royal, lies in the fact that performance was exceptional from first to last and that it was so deeply rooted in our own time and place.

Robin Wood, native son, playing the Rachmaninoff Concerto in C Minor, No. 2, had added inches to his stature as a virtuoso since last heard a year ago.

Then there was an astounding performance by the Greater Victoria Schools Orchestra and to conclude, a fine, compelling reading of the Beethoven Fifth Symphony by Hans Gruber and his musicians.

GLOWING ASPECTS
The Rachmaninoff Concerto one of the most thoroughly planistic and brilliant in the whole literature of piano concerts—revealed glowing aspects of Mr. Wood's artistry and technical facility.

He has always produced an especially lovely tone but there is more texture in it now, a powerful sonority that greatly increases the dramatic dimensions of his performance.

An exquisitely poetic slow movement in which the pianist commanded the most subtle colorations, shaping phrases with a sensitive finesse, was preceded and followed by authoritative, virtuosic, first and third movements.

A fine sympathy existed between soloist, conductor and orchestra, the latter supplying rich accompaniment.

BLOOD-STIRRING
Something to stir the blood in the most sluggish veins, was the performance of Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Caprice Espagnol" and "Farandole" from Bizet's "Carmen" Suite, by the Greater Victoria Schools Orchestra.

Splendid attack, an accurate and sustained tempo, remarkable degree of correct tonality, all these were attributes of the performance conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Evans.

But more than this, the character and style of the music was fully realized and brilliantly presented.

Discipline of this orchestra is striking. Uniform position of all first desk players and the unanimous and instant response of the entire orchestra to the conductor's starting signal, gives an impression of professional competence.

What follows, both by the orchestra as a whole and by its solo passage players, lives

30-MINUTE OVATION

Prima Donna Scores Victory Over Pain

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—"Retire?"
asked prima donna Joan Sutherland. "Me retire? ... Now?"
"No, I'll go on singing till I drop."

Suffering from arthritis—one of the most painful ailments—
the 35-year-old Australian opera star has been reported ready to retire. But Sunday night she achieved one of the most resounding triumphs of her career, or anybody else's.

More than 6,000 persons cheered her for 30 thundering minutes after a concert.
Her performance sent London's tough critics into paragraphs of ecstasy.
Said The Times:

"The singing offered by Miss

Sutherland was the kind that made one privileged to be living in the 1960s. ... Rarely in her life can she have been enjoyed a greater triumph on the concert platform."

Said The Daily Express:
"On last night's showing, she could sing half the world's top sopranos under the table wearing a gag."

During the concert she pulled out all the stops in the Lucia mad scene, for which she had won world acclaim; in an aria from Bellini's Beatrice di Tenda Violetta's last act aria from La Traviata ... and more.

After encore after encore, the orchestra had to be led off the stage to allow the singer to

WORLD FATE AT STAKE ASSIGNAL WENT WRONG

OMAHA (AP) — Strategic Air Command headquarters confirmed Sunday night that a false signal at the height of the Berlin crisis last fall indicated the United States might be under attack.

The SAC statement, by Maj. John Oswald of the public relations staff, confirmed a Washington Star copyrighted story that planes carrying hydrogen-bombs rushed to the runways of SAC bases around the world.

Oswald, however, disputed that it was for "more than four minutes" that it appeared war was possible.

"It was a matter of seconds," he said. "We contacted the Ballistic Missile Early Warning system at Thule, Greenland, and learned it was still there and had not been attacked."

"Then we knew it was a communications problem," he said.

Wrongdoing Denied By Ont. Chief Justice

TORONTO (CP) — Chief Justice Dana Porter of Ontario today took the stand before the royal commission on crime and denied any knowledge of "improper" activities in his department while he was attorney general between 1949 and 1955.

He was asked by commission counsel Roland F. Wilson about allegations by Liberal Leader John Wintermyer of such activities among senior officials.

Mr. Wilson then asked the chief justice if he had any knowledge of improper relationships on the part of senior officials in his department or any improper terminations of investigations or payments of money.

"None whatever," replied the chief justice, who was on the witness stand only briefly as the hearing resumed today.

The only other point on which the chief justice was queried concerned an incident in November, 1954 after the arrest of 34 persons in a raid on a gambling club at nearby Cooksville.

Sidney Skipper Plans Cruises To World Fair

A Sidney boat owner is planning "private cruises" to the Seattle World Fair via Anacortes and the San Juan Islands.

Trips are planned by Capt. D. H. McKay of Curtis Point, starting next month and running weekly through the season until September.

He skips the 40-foot bridge cabin cruiser Carmanita, well-known in local waters through Capt. McKay's association with Brenta Lodge, and as a former Alaska cruiser.

Capt. McKay says he can accommodate five passengers during a four or five-day trip through the islands including two days berthed at Seattle.

So far there have been some 40 inquiries, particularly from Alberta residents.

They've Had Martin Pledge, They're Waiting for Action

Health Minister Eric Martin's promise of improved mental health services was received with optimism by officials of the B.C. division of the Canadian Mental Health Association Saturday.

"We hope words will soon be followed by actions," said John Sexton, vice-president of the division.

In a speech to the association at its annual meeting, Health Minister Martin called for an end to "sniping and overt warfare" between the health department and the CMHA.

He urged that they "join forces to work together to advance the concepts of community care for the mental Found guilty of breaking and entering the offices of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, Stanley Charles Rife, 23, was sentenced Friday to two years in the B.C. Penitentiary.

He was convicted of the offence in Assize Court March 23 and remanded for sentence by Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton.

Rife and two other men entered the Chamber premises early one morning with a key belonging to an office cleaning firm.

STARVED

Dr. Patrick McGeer, a scientist at the University of British Columbia, said mental health research is "starved" for lack of money.

"Researchers live from year to year under the threat of having their government or private foundation grants cut off," he said.

"It is hard to attract students into careers of research under such uncertain conditions. There are no clinical research facilities in B.C. and we can't study patients at the bedside."

Dr. McGeer, who holds both a medical degree and a PhD, said the B.C. government does not engage directly in any mental health research.

The budget for mental

The result was a decisive 4-1 triumph over the Canadiens, Chicago's first win in the best-of-seven series after dropping two one-goal decisions at Montreal last week.

The defending cup champions, fired up after Pilous' pep talk, were definitely the masters before a noisy partisan crowd of 16,558. They scored twice in the first period and never looked back.

Pilous was obviously satisfied with the game, but warned that "one victory doesn't win" a championship.

INJURED LEFT KNEE

Bernie Geoffrion, busy right winger, re-injured his troublesome left knee during a third period collision with Hawk defenseman Dollard St. Laurent. It was not immediately known whether the Boomer would be available for duty when Canadiens and Hawks clash again here Tuesday night in the series' fourth game.

Geoffrion missed six games with an injury to the same knee during regular-season National Hockey League play. Bronco Horvath and Stan Mikita got the Hawks rolling with first period goals. Bill (Red) Hay added another goal late in the second and Ken Wharram scored the fourth early in the third.

The lone Montreal goal was scored by rookie Gordon Berenson at 14:27 of the third, Berenson's first Stanley Cup playoff goal.

PRIDE FLEMING

Both coaches praised Reggie Fleming, rugged Hawk defenseman-forward who played one of the best games of his young professional hockey career.

Fleming was a going concern all night, being particularly effective in a penalty-killing role. He also took a regular turn on a forward unit with Horvath and Eric Nesterenko.

After Tuesday night's game, the teams travel to Montreal for a fifth game Thursday night. If further games are necessary to decide a winner, they'll be played at Chicago next Sunday night and Montreal April 10.

The Hawks relied on precision passing to carry their own attack and checked hard to scatter Montreal advances. Chicago players were often left open and their scoring plays were neatly executed.

College Clips First United

Times News Services
A clutch basket by Glenn Driedger with 15 seconds to play gave Vancouver College the B.C. midweek boys' basketball championship at Nanaimo Saturday.

Driedger's accurate toss broke up a 22-22 tie, gave the Fighting Irish the trophy by two points, 24-22, against Victoria's First United.

Girls' championship was won by the Women of the Moose team from Duncan, 17-14, over Richmond. At Penticton, J. W. Neill of Alberni defeated Penticton 74-69 to win the B.C. juvenile boys' basketball title. The Alberni team won the total-points opener 67-59.

FAST-STEPPING HARRY EDGES LYNN EVES

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Harry Jerome of Vancouver came close to equalling the world record in the 100-yard dash Saturday as he and his Oregon teammates sped to victory in the Far West Relays. Jerome had to settle for 9.3 in the 100 when one timer disqualified his 9.2 clocking because he said "I didn't see the smoke from the starter's gun and I'm sure I went on sound."

Another B.C. runner, Lynn Eves, of Victoria, was second behind Jerome with 9.6.

The two young pros had tied over the 72-hole route at 281, seven under par. They finished a stroke ahead of Mason Rudolph, who finished with a 73 to win $1,400.

Marr, playing out of Sun City, Ariz., set up his winning birdie with a little eight iron shot on the extra hole. Steel-smith, who had birdied five

COACHES CALM

Only One Hawk Gets Praise From Pilous

For a pair of winning coaches, Rudy Pilous and Doug Harvey were noticeably restrained. His world champion Chicago Black Hawks had just humiliated Montreal Canadiens 4-1 but Pilous wasn't blowing any horns nor ringing bells Sunday night.

'Cadets Only' In Rugby Final

The Victoria Rugby Union's intermediate final is an all-service affair while Oak Bay Whites and PPCLI Cadets square off for the midweek championship next Saturday.

HMCS Venture won a berth in the intermediate final against Royal Roads by defeating Oak Bay Police 12-3 Saturday. It was a replay of their first meeting that ended in a 3-3 tie.

The final will be played at Royal Roads. Oak Bay downed Central Wanderers 5-3 and PPCLI edged Windsor Reds 8-5 to win Saturday's sudden-death midweek semifinals.

West Names Two Rugby Selectors

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ken Banks and Peter Clarke of Victoria have been appointed western selectors for the Canadian rugby team to travel to Britain this fall.

The eastern selectors, who have been in Vancouver for the last two weeks, are Lionel Young of Toronto and Dez O'Neill of Montreal.

Great Gump, 'New Scorers' Give New York 5-4 Victory

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Rangers finally found some spunk in their front ranks Sunday night and fought their way to a tough 5-4 decision over Toronto Maple Leafs that cut Toronto's edge to one game in the Stanley Cup semifinal.

Forwards Johnny Wilson and Guy Gendron showed up strong for the Rangers but rookie Dave Balon and oldtimer Andy Heberton contributed the big third-period goals that pulled the Rangers too far out front for the Leafs to catch up. Toronto leads the best-of-seven set 2-1.

Bob Pulford fired the game's last goal at 13:43 of the final session after being stymied by Rangers goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley all night, along with several other Leafs who often outskated the defenders only to be beaten by Worsley.

Eddie Shack, Frank Mahovlich and Dave Keon were among the Torontonians foiled by Worsley.

WILSON NETS TWO

Wilson scored twice on Johnny Bower in the Leafs' net after Guy Gendron's picture goal at 1:25 of the second period had tied it 1-1.

Defenceman Tim Horton got the only goal of the first period on a pass from Dick Duff at 5:59. Rangers defenceman Al Langlois had fired a high clearing shot from the corner that Duff moved over to Horton, who nicked Worsley's skate from 50 feet out.

In the second period Gendron came in along the boards on the right side and managed to get a step past Horton just inside the blueline, backhanding one past the surprised Bower into the far corner.

George Armstrong got one back for the Leafs at 6:46 of the second period before Wilson hit for his first two goals of the series.

MADE PARTIAL STOP

Wilson's first goal was just 19 seconds later. Taking a pass from Balon, he skimmed one along the ice that Bower got a piece of but couldn't stop. The shot came from just inside the blueline and was partially screened.

With less than a minute to play in the second period—seconds after Worsley had robbed Mahovlich on a hard drive—Wilson snatched the puck away from about 10 feet out.

A screen shot by Toronto's Red Kelly at 4:47 of the third period tied it 3-3 but goals by Heberton and Balon within four minutes of Kelly's tally gave the Rangers the lead they fought to protect from then on.

Coach George (Punch) Imlach pulled Bower with a full minute to play but the Rangers managed to keep possession most of the time.

SPECTATORS FEEL PRESSURE, TOO

"Can't watch" pose is assumed by Wendy Munn whenever husband, Dick, is confronted with crucial putt. Wendy worries and waits in usual manner while Dick strokes putt during Sunday match against George Andrews in Times Island Open golf tournament. She shouldn't have had too many fretful moments as tourney medalist carved out comfortable 5-and-4 victory over Andrews at Oak Bay. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

John's Bid for 'Good Showing' Almost Too Good for Macleod

BY ERNIE FEDORUK

The first round of match play in the Times Vancouver Island Open golf championships was devoid of upsets, but one "that might have been" provided the Sunday highlight at Victoria Golf Club.

John Carlow, 51-year-old past president of the B.C. Golf Association whose only concern Saturday was "to make a good showing Sunday," carried prime favorite Ron MacLeod to an extra hole.

MacLeod, Jasper Park Lodge pro who plays out of Victoria Club during the winter months, pulled out a victory on the 19th hole.

That was the closest thing to an upset and other favorites all marked up easy victories in advancing to the 16s of the island's biggest tournament. Medalist Dick Munn, setting the speed for the favorites shook up veteran George Andrews with a nifty bit of scrambling around Oak Bay's "point" holes to win 5 and 4.

Five former winners in the field followed "the easy road" picked out by Munn. None of the ex-champs were forced to go beyond the 16th.

Approach Shot Hit the Flag Stick

Others passing Sunday's first test were Gord Jones, Frank Scroggs, Dave Fanthorpe, Dr. George Bigelow, Bob McKean, John Merriman, Al Reside and Cowichan's Gord Whan, the only out-of-town golfer left in the running for the Times Trophy.

Sunday's "action," however, belonged to Carlow. And, by coincidence, it marked the second straight year the Gorge Vale executive was drawn against MacLeod in the first round. MacLeod won 6 and 5 last year.

It wasn't as easy this time and MacLeod gave Carlow plenty of opportunity to stay close. The blond pro three-putted seven greens.

Carlow also made some of his own breaks. One down after 15 holes, he squared the match after a near-perfect approach shot to the 16th green.

Carlow's second shot almost dropped for an eagle two, hitting the flag stick and then coming to rest about 18 inches away for an easy birdie.

That warmed up the match. It got hot on the 17th when Carlow dropped an 18-foot putt for another birdie. MacLeod's birdie bid from about the same distance rimmed the cup but stayed out and the heavily-favored pro was one down when he stepped up to the 18th tee.

It was on the 18th that Carlow missed his calling. The 19th, which MacLeod won with a par five, was anti-climatic.

Brilliant Recoveries Turned Tide

Needing only a half to win, Carlow gave MacLeod a big opening when he dubbed his drive on 18. It wound up only about 130 yards off the tee. His second, also mis-hit, wound up in a trap another 100 yards down the fairway.

Carlow's third shot, from out of the trap, still was short of MacLeod's tremendous, with-the-wind drive that carried almost 300 yards. MacLeod safely picked up a par and a win that took him to the 19th.

Andrews expected tough battle with the 19-year-old Munn never materialized after the youthful pro made some brilliant recovery shots on the par-three 7th, 8th and 9th holes.

Andrews hit each green and Munn missed them all. Yet Munn won two of the three holes, halved eight, and made the turn three-up on "Porky."

The combination of Munn's stroke-saving recoveries and Andrews' three-putt displays on the 7th and 9th holes swung the tide in Dick's favor. Second-round matches will be played at Colwood next Sunday, with one exception. Chappell and Carroll will play their match Tuesday at Colwood, starting at 12 noon.

The two Oak Bay pros requested a mid-week match because of circumstances connected with the staff of the Empress Hotel tournament next week.

TIMES OPEN RESULTS

Results of the first round of match play in the Times Vancouver Island Open golf tournament, played Sunday at Victoria Golf Club:

CHAMPIONSHIP
Dick Munn (CH) defeated George Andrews (RC), 5 and 4.
Al Reside (U) defeated C. Heggie (U), 2 up.
John Merriman (GV) defeated John Furmston (U), 6 and 5.
Ron MacLeod (V) defeated Doug Aune (RC), 5 and 3.
Laurie Carroll (V) defeated Hal Jacobsen (U), 4 and 2.
Roy Chappell (V) defeated J. Flanagan (U), 5 and 3.
Bill Wakeham (GV) defeated Mike Kolb (GV), 5 and 4.
Bob McKean (V) defeated Bill Wiggman (GV), 5 and 4.
Gord Whan (COW) defeated Bob Hum (U), 5 and 3.
Laurie Kerr (RC) defeated Bill Court (RC), 5 and 4.
Dave Fanthorpe (GV) defeated Gord Pellow (U), 2 and 1.
Ron MacLeod (V) defeated John Carlow (U), 5 and 3.
Art Donaldson (GV) defeated Bert Saxon (RC), 5 and 4.
Frank Scroggs (U) defeated Mel Evans (COW), 5 and 4.
Gord Jones (GV) defeated Clayton Wright (COW), 5 and 3.

The defeats suffered by Court and Cevichan's Mel Evans, trimmed the professional contingent to five—Roy Chappell, Munn, Carroll, MacLeod and Donaldson.

At least two more pros will be out of the running by this time next Monday. Carroll meets Chappell, his assistant, in the second round and MacLeod plays Donaldson as the "big" matches start to show.

Buckaroos Upset In Opening Game

Times News Services
Calgary Stampedeers did as expected but Portland Buckaroos let form players down in separate Western Hockey League playoff games on the weekend.

The Stampedeers scuffled 5-2 in Cowtown. Victory gave Calgary the best-of-three northern division semi-final in straight games. They now open a best-of-seven playoff with Edmonton Flyers. First

Bridesmaid's Duties Left for Vets Again

SALMON ARM—A well-balanced Salmon Arm team beat Victoria to the altar, so far for the second straight year. Wally Yeaman's Naval Vets are "the bridesmaids" in provincial senior "B" women's basketball circles.

Salmon Arm captured the B.C. title by defeating Vets 50-46 Saturday to take the two-game total-round score 87-80.

Barb McPherson scored 12 points to pace Salmon Arm in the title-clinching game. Mary Pearson and Louise Mason were standouts for Vets, contributing 20 and 15 points, respectively.

Victoria, beaten 37-34 Friday, also got five points from Sylvia Campbell and two each from Gail Archibald, Arlene Perry and Arlene Pearce.

SWIMMERS CRACK EIGHT MARKS

Records Take Beating
It's almost axiomatic these days that whenever a swimming meet is held a flock of records are set.

That's what happened at Crystal Garden Saturday. Victoria Amateur and Vancouver Dolphin swimming clubs coalesced in a challenge competition to hang up eight long pool Canadian marks.

Marion Wilmsink of Vancouver was the most prolific record smasher. Marion posted a new 50-yards senior girls' breaststroke mark of 35.4 seconds compared with 36.3; 100 yards breaststroke in 1:17 compared with 1:19.4; and 200 yards breaststroke 2:45.3 compared with 2:48.7.

The sole VASC representative to enshrine his name in the record book was Grant Treloar. He lowered the boys' 11-12 50-yard breaststroke mark by one-tenth of a second to 35.1 seconds.

Other records with the old time in brackets: Mary Stewart, senior 100-yards-butterfly, 1:04 (1:06.7); Elaine Tanner, 11-12, 50-yard backstroke, 33.5 (34.0); Lucille Lasch, 10 and under, 50-yard breaststroke, 44.9 (45.5); Dolphin senior girls' relay team, 200-yard freestyle relay, 1:55.6 (2:00.1); Dolphin's Karen Norquist set a standard of 36 seconds in the 13-14, 50-yard backstroke for which there had been no previous Canadian record.

VANCOUVER—Victoria United and goalkeeper Barry Sadler's balloon finally burst, but it didn't break quite as loudly as some Pacific Coast Soccer League observers felt it would.

With some breaks, it might not have broken at all.

Until Jim Blundell took advantage of a defensive lapse to score the clinching goal in Firefighters' 2-0 victory over United at Callister Park, there were many moments which suggested that Victoria might salvage at least a tie on Saturday.

Defeat snapped a five-game run in which United scored five shutouts.

When the Firemen got the all-important second goal six minutes after the interval, it was the first time they got a look at Victoria's goal since the intermission.

United had enough chances to win the contest in the first half but left the field on the short end of a 1-0 score only.

So the balloon broke . . .

Winger Dave Hutton scored Vancouver's first goal on a fine, over-the-shoulder kick.

The goal was the first scored against Sadler in five games.

George Paul, Henry Vanderhorst, Tommy Major and Volker Stoldt all missed glorious opportunities to score for United in the first half. All shot wide of the Firefighters' goal; however, with goalkeeper Ken Pears seemingly beaten.

Just as he became the first athlete to break the so-called 16-foot ceiling indoors last winter at the same height, Ueises propelled himself over the bar on the second crack at the distance.

It was a dramatic moment in the 25th annual Santa Barbara Easter Relays and the crowd of about 6,000 gave him a standing ovation.

LEAPED HIGH

The 24-year-old athlete, who lives in Miami, and only recently was discharged as a Marine corporal, leaped high out of the sand just as he landed.

It was first announced that the height was 16 feet, 4 inch and the crowd and vaulters were elated with this news. But their delight was increased when a subsequent measurement raised it to 16 1/2.

Ueises' feat erased the existing world record of 15 1/2, set in 1961 by George Dawes of Arizona State University.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger, British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria, handed Henry Hank of Detroit a terrific beating Saturday night in wumung a lopsided 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

It was the seventh straight victory for the 32-year-old Nigerian who is the hottest of all the middleweights.

ROY ST. DENIS scored Gorge's first goal, Ian Holroyd tied it at about the 25-minute mark of the second half, and Cliff Newman, banged in the winner five minutes later.

Evcoes, tied with Kickers before Sunday's action, managed only one point despite the fact they led 2-0 at the half on goals by Charlie Constable and Ron Minnis.

Canadian Scottish charged back to pull out a 2-2 draw on scoring plays by Larry Johnston and Bruce Walker.

Gorge, Evcoes Stride Into New Territories

Evcoes made it to the top of the Victoria and District Soccer League pile Sunday, but the biggest hurdle was cleared by Gorge Hotel on Saturday.

The scrappy Gorge side moved into the quarter-finals of the Province Cup competition by defeating Vancouver Firefighters of the Mainland League 3-2 at Royal Athletic Park.

The Hotelmen's opposition, as well as the date and site of the quarter-final game, won't be known until later.

Ridan Wins Pot In Final Jump

NEW YORK (CP)—Ridan and Cicada staged a spine-tingling stretch duel in the $125,800 Florida Derby Saturday with Ridan winning by a nose.

Admiral's Voyage was third and Doctor Hank K. fourth in the field of 11. Cicada was the only filly in the race, run at Gulfstream Park, just outside Miami Beach, Fla.

Stewards called for an inquiry after the two leaders battled through the 941-foot-long stretch. Ridan passed the Meadow Stable's Cicada in the final stride.

The results were declared official 10 minutes later. It was the end of four $100,000 races in Florida this winter to end in an inquiry.

CALIFORNIA CLINCHES HISTORIC RUGBY CUP

VANCOUVER (CP)—University of California Golden Bears clinched the historic World Cup Saturday in a hard-fought 3-0 decision over the UBC Thunderbirds. The win was California's third in the four-game series. The World Cup was awarded to California for the seventh time since 1938, the year it was limited to competition between the Bears and the Birds. Previously it was contested among various coast colleges. UBC, who were the defending champions, have won the trophy nine times.

'Jam-Can Spiel' Ends Third Year for IAA

The Independent Athletic Association will ring down the curtain on its third year of operation in novel fashion. The Independents will do the honors with a "jam-can-bonspiel" tonight at Memorial Arena.

Started with four softball clubs in the spring of 1959, the IAA now has 26 teams in various sports and boasts an active membership of more than 600.

Jam cans, equipped with handles and filled with cement, will take place of regular curling stones for tonight's bonspiel, which has attracted an entry of almost 80 rinks. Contestants will "curl" on 12 sheets of ice and follow regular curling rules.

Action starts at 7 p.m., when rinks of IAA sponsors are piped onto the ice for the first shift. A pipe-band will also play during the evening and IAA members who don't try their hand at curling will be able to try their feet in dancing in the arena lobby.

Ridan, the favorite, paid $4.70, $3 and $2.30. Cicada paid $3.70 and $2.20. Admiral's Voyage paid $3.

BIG EARLY LEAD

Ridan, owned by Mrs. Moody Jelly and ridden by Manuel Ycaza, was fourth past the clubhouse. He was second after a half mile and stayed there until he caught Cicada in the stretch.

Ridan was on the outside coming down the stretch, and Cicada stayed on the rail. Ridan appeared to come in on Cicada as they battled head and head toward the finish. But the stewards made the finish official with no change. It was six lengths back to Admiral's Voyage.

BIG EARNER

Ridan, winner of nine races in 12 starts, added $85,800 to his owner's bankroll and now has earned $424,934.

At Aqueduct Saturday, Globemaster ran the fastest mile by the young New York racing season and won the $28,500 Westchester Stakes in a rousing four-horse finish.

Globemaster stepped the mile in 1:34.35 on a fast track. Globemaster, now winner of $355,424, paid $3.80, $2.70 and $2.20. Rideabout returned $4 and $2.70 and Merry Ruler $2.90.

Fairlane 500 Fordor Sedan... one of Ford of Canada's fine cars, built in Canada.

no!...it's a FORD AIRLANE

FAIRLANE IS THE NEW STANDARD SIZE FORD!

What is a standard size car? You know about the big cars; you know all about the compacts. You may or may not know that now there is a new standard size car—and the leader in this new class of car is the Fairlane. It fits right between the big cars and the compacts. Fairlane is a foot longer than the average compact... and a foot shorter than the average big car. Fairlane's wheelbase is 6.1' longer than the average compact—just 3.5 inches shorter than that of a big car. In terms of interior roominess, Fairlane is as large as many big cars of a few short years ago. And it gives you Ford's famous Twice-a-Year Maintenance features that most other cars lack completely! Price? Fairlane actually costs less than some of the compacts. Test drive this new standard size Ford. Get the feel of it. Like most people, you'll probably feel that it's just right for you—in every way.

White wall tires and special wheel covers are optional at extra cost.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Frederic March sat in his dressing room smoking a small cigar. Not a startling fact—except that he had on his great beard. He was made up to play the Angel of God in "Gideon" at the Plymouth... and he was smoking.

"The Angel prefers panatelas," I remarked.

March grinned. "I gave up cigarettes," he said.

I had told him that, perhaps because I'm a Midwestern Methodist. I had been a little uncomfortable hearing laughter in a play concerning the Deity—at least for the first few minutes. Then I grew to like the Paddy Chayefsky handling of the stirring Book of Judges and didn't feel any longer that I was committing a sacrilege by listening.

"Same thing happened to my brother Jack," March said. (He was speaking of John March Bickel of Syracuse.)

THEY LAID IT

"He said to me I can't imagine people laughing about a Biblical story," I said. "It's a comedy—that's why they laugh." He came to a matinee, and he liked it. "Norman Vincent Peale was crazy about it. Rabbis have come in saying they liked it."

March took another puff and stroked the beard for he would soon be going on stage. "And Father Ford came in and said, 'Freddie, I got 10 or three good sermons out of this play!'"

March himself taught Sunday school in the Racine, Wis. First Presbyterian Church as a young man. So now he's happy if in addition to giving an entertaining show, he can get some religious thoughts across.

"Listen," he said suddenly to the show's co-producer,

Tourist Reported

HAVANA (Reuters) — Max Hoffer, 28, British tourist who has been held by Cuban security police since last month, will be deported to Mexico within the next few days, a foreign ministry source has reported. No British diplomat has been able to see Hoffer since March 5.

AND BRIDGE GAME CHANGED

She Laughed as He Started to Play

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A Canadian girl's scorn led ultimately to the bidding system, used by millions of bridge players.

This was disclosed Friday by Charles Goren of New York, currently ranked No. 2 U.S. player.

In an interview at the U.S. spring bridge tournament, Goren said he started playing while studying law at McGill University in Montreal.

A girl friend asked him to play cards one afternoon and he was so inept she burst into a guffaw.

He said the ridicule hurt him, and then there it was. He decided that the next time he sat down at a card table he would really know the game. He got a copy of a book by expert Milton Work and soon was so good at bridge that he was the sensation of bridge tournaments and became a ghost writer for a bridge column for Work.

In 1935 he turned out a best-selling book, "Winning Bridge Made Easy," and soon more and more bridge players were turning from Eli Culbertson's honor count system to Goren's point system.

The 61-year-old former lawyer has headed U.S. bridge experts for many years but Oswald Jacoby of Dallas, Tex., recently forged into the No. 1 spot on the basis of tournament points.

ask Andy

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to Andy will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Karen McPeters, age 9, Mars Hill, N.C., for her question:

How Can We Tell Termites From Carpenter Ants?

A brand new house can be ruined by insects in just a few years. First floors and walls begin to sag. The little house-wreckers are cutting networks of tunnels in the woodwork and weakening the supports. An expert can stop the damage, but he must know what insect is causing it. If the tiny tunnelers are not stopped, the whole house may come tumbling down.

Every year, termites and carpenter ants damage thousands of buildings. Both these insects like to build their nests in dead wood. In the wild, they tunnel their rooms and nurseries in logs and fallen trees. They take it for granted that the wood we use to build our homes is also for them. Sometimes they have weak- ened the supports of a house before we even know they are there.

The network of tiny tunnels in the woodwork could have been made by termites or carpenter ants. But the little house-wreckers look very different from each other. The carpenter ant is shiny black. The soft termite is sluggish white. The ant has a slim waist and a slender neck. The termite looks somewhat like a caterpillar with a bulging tummy and six spidery legs.

The ant likes to wander around a building, outside the nest. We may see her scurrying around the kitchen looking for scraps of food. She gives herself away and we can often stop her house-wrecking before much damage is done.

The pale termite is never seen outside her tunnels. For she is quite blind and hates the light. When she needs to move from one wooden post to the next, she works with her sisters to build a dark tunnel of spit and wood fiber.

Expert Can Tell Difference

The black carpenter ant is almost half an inch long, which makes her a big ant. If you find her running around the kitchen, you can suspect that house-wreckers are busy in the woodwork. Only an expert can tell you whether a crew of termites have started their house-wrecking activities.

The ant can leave her nest to find water. The termite must find water in the dark walls and woodwork. Some termites get the moisture they need from wood. Others depend on leaky faucets and damp patches in the walls. These fellows leave a building that is dry. All termites will move away if the woodwork is treated with creosote.

When termites or carpenter ants attack a building, we need the help of an expert. He knows which team of house-wreckers is doing the damage, the right chemical to destroy them and how to use it. Sometimes, when termites move out, a crew of carpenter ants will move right in. For this reason, the tunnels in the woodwork must be sealed up tight to save the house from more damage.

Too Much Vitamin B Added, Doctor Warns

ABOARD EMPRESS OF ENGLAND (CP) — The number of foods and food preparations in Canada that have excess Vitamin D added is "somewhat alarming," a leading child doctor said today.

Dr. William Cochrane, associate professor of pediatrics at Dalhousie University, Halifax, told a meeting of family doctors aboard this Canadian Pacific cruise ship that despite readily available vitamins, there are certain vitamin deficiencies among children in various parts of Canada—particularly of thiamine, Vitamin B6, ascorbic acid and Vitamin D.

"It is also necessary perhaps that the physician be aware of the potential danger of excessive amounts of Vitamin D. In Canada it is somewhat alarming to record the number of foods and food preparations that have excess Vitamin D added.

Iron deficiency continues to be one of the major problems in children in the world today," Dr. Cochrane said.

"The causes of iron deficiency are most commonly due to the lack of knowledge on the part of the mother of the proper foods that she should be giving her children and this in turn is frequently due to lack of instruction on the part of the family physician."

In one year at the children's hospital in Halifax, 148 cases of iron deficiency anaemia were recorded, Dr. Cochrane said, and in many cases they were not recognized until a routine blood test was done prior to an operation.

"Studies have shown that iron may not be adequately provided by the use of eggs, meats, or cereal in some children, and that supplemental iron preparations must be given."

City Briefs

Alec Gibb, a navigator with 224 Squadron of the RAF Coastal Command during the Second World War, was elected president of 800 Pacific Wing of the RCAF Association at the annual meeting recently.

Other officers elected were: Past president, Dick Higgins; first vice-president, Frank Porter; second vice-president, Joe Barlow; secretary, Mrs. Ora Collard; treasurer, Al Lukinuk. Committee chairmen are: Publicity, R. W. "Mac" Eggleston; house, Rex Collard; ways and means, King Lee; membership, Al Smythe; entertainment, Ken Cutler; finance, Ted Cressy; refreshments, George Lieutard; program, Bill Lee.

Twenty-five members of the Chamber of Commerce left Saturday on a week-long goodwill tour of five prairie cities, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton and Calgary.

The provincial government is represented by Works Minister W. N. Chant, the city by Ald. Austin Curtis and Saanich by Coun. Joseph Casey.

A meeting of the Victoria Aged Pensioners No. 3 will be held Tuesday at 1:45 p.m. in the Britannia Legion hall, Blanshard Street.

Public hearings will be held before Esquimalt and Oak Bay councils tonight.

Esquimalt citizens will be able to air their views on a proposed Dunsmuir Road high rise apartment at 7:15 p.m. in council chambers.

Oak Bay will hold a hearing to discuss proposed kindergarten licensing bylaw at 7:45 p.m., also in council chambers.

Her Royal Highness Princess Mary, Queen Elizabeth's aunt, will officially open Victoria's new courthouse when she visits here June 16.

The Princess Royal will also spend the day with more than 1,000 members of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, of which she is colonel-in-chief.

"The courthouse is one of our finest buildings," Public Works Minister W. N. Chant said Friday, "and an official opening by such a personage as Princess Royal is an opportunity worth waiting for."

It was for that reason, he added, that the official opening has been delayed. For practical purposes the new courthouse was opened at the end of February.

The Royal Society of St. George, Victoria Branch, will hold its annual dinner on April 24 at 6:30 p.m. in the Olde England Inn, 429 Lamson Street.

The Victoria British Israel Association will hold a public meeting in the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort St., at 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday.

Mrs. G. E. Altree Coley will speak on "The Great Sign of His Coming."

AIR DEFENCE operations for the area from northern California to northern B.C. are conducted here in the Combat Control Centre at McChord Air Force Base. Battle staff sit facing a huge vertical screen on which they can see, in seconds, the whole air defence picture for the region including the state of readiness of defence forces, both manned interceptor fighters and guided missiles.

THE AMAZING S.A.G.E. COMPUTER

Stupid, But What a Memory!

Times reporter Hal Jones and photographer Irving Strickland last week spent two days inspecting McChord Air Force Base in Washington, the key centre for air defence of the Pacific Northwest area. Here is the second of four stories on what they saw.

By HAL JONES
"It's stupid, you have to tell it what to do all the time."

This is a description frequently made of the giant S.A.G.E. computers that form the nerve centre of the complex system known as the North American Air Defence Command.

One of them is at the headquarters of NORAD's 25th region at McChord Air Force Base, Wash. S.A.G.E. stands for Semi-Automatic Ground Environment System, and this simply means a system made up of men and machines. It may be stupid but it isn't lazy—the time lapse between its operations is measured in millionths of seconds. Basically the machine receives information, stores it in a mechanical "memory" and produces it upon request, as it were, from the men who operate it.

MANY SOURCES
Incoming information is fed into the machine from dozens of sources. It comes over telephone lines from the early warning stations in the far north, from the height-finding radar units and the radar listening posts all over Canada and the U.S., and it comes from U.S. Navy picket ships and USAF early warning aircraft out in the Pacific.

At the same time it stores weather data and pre-flight plans of all aircraft, both military and civil, flying in the area and the numbers of interceptor fighters and missiles available for defence.

At the flick of a switch S.A.G.E. can display visually on scopes the air defence picture from northern California to northern B.C.

Every plane that shows up on the screen is automatically checked against all available information. If the blip doesn't match, it is immediately treated as an "unknown." If other means fail to provide identification the defence mechanism swings into action.

For the technically-minded the S.A.G.E. computer consists of 58,000 vacuum tubes, 600,000 resistors, 170,000 diodes, 7,300 pluggable units, 919 miles of external wiring and 123 miles of internal wiring.

300 PERSONS
All this—and some 300 human beings—is housed in a four-storey concrete block house.

The computer is on the second floor; in other parts of the building are the Combat Control Centre, where the battle staff repose in splendor, the Direction Centre which directs the air battle, the Air Surveillance room and the Weapons Room which launches defence aircraft or missiles if needed.

The Combat Control Centre heads up the division. High ranking officers from all branches of the armed services make up the battle staff.

They sit in a semi-circle on the middle floor of a three-storey gallery. Below them a battery of consoles or scopes maintains a complete picture of the air defence picture and above them is the projection room. They sit in an eerie soft blue light facing a huge screen.

Clemency Plea Made by Dief

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker addressed a public appeal to the Cuban government Sunday, asking that clemency be shown towards nearly 1,200 invasion prisoners now on trial in Havana.

"In view of the widespread concern in Canada about the fate of the prisoners, I express the hope that clemency will be exercised and that there will not be resort to the death penalty in the determination of sentences," he said in a statement.

"I make this appeal to the government of Cuba on humanitarian grounds."

Diplomatic sources said the plea was officially conveyed to the Castro government through the Canadian embassy in Havana.

It was the third time in less than two months that Canada has attempted to intercede on behalf of the prisoners captured in the ill-fated invasion at the Bay of Pigs last April 17.

EXCOMMUNICATION THREAT

Church Fights Segregation

MRS. B. J. GAILLOT
... reveals letter

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"If I'm wrong, I'll get down on my knees and ask for mercy and forgiveness," says a militant segregationist who claims she was threatened with excommunication by a Roman Catholic archbishop.

Mrs. B. J. Galliot, president of Save Our Nation, Inc., pleaded for an interview with Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel to discuss the segregation issue.

The dark-haired mother of three said she received a registered letter late Saturday night from the archdiocese.

She decided to disclose details of its contents but said it was a blunt threat of excommunication. She said she assumed she received the letter because of my stand on segregation.

The archdiocesan chancery issued a statement that a "personal and confidential" letter was sent to Mrs. Galliot.

"Since she has chosen to make it public, no further comment is needed," said Rev. Elmo Romagosa, director of the archdiocese's bureau of information.

DEMANDS SEGREGATION

Mrs. Galliot's organization contends that Biblical teachings prove "God demands segregation."

The 82-year-old archbishop, who six years ago declared segregation "morally wrong and sinful" last week ordered an end to segregated classes in the archdiocese beginning next fall.

Mrs. Galliot has led a small band of women picketing Rummel's residence, the chancery and the nearby home of Archbishop Coadjutor John Patrick Cody.

Meanwhile, a high church official disclosed that similar letters had gone to several leading segregationists in the city.

Excommunication casts out Catholics from the communion of the church. There are two kinds, minor—a separation of suspension from the sacraments; and major—absolute exclusion of the offender from the church and all its rights and advantages, even social intercourse with the faithful in the case of great offences.

Another Grade 9 student, Bob Tapp, received second prize for his model of a parabolic solar steam super heterodyne radio receiver.

Andrea Moore, a Grade 9 student who displayed a cross section of a leaf, and Don Craigmyle, Grade 7, who built a working model of a hydroelectric dam, tied for third place.

The panel of six judges was impressed by the high standard of the more than 30 exhibits on display. The judges were selected from the staffs of Canadian Services College, Victoria College, Royal Roads, and the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

'Only the Nostalgic Crackpots Want to Live on Stink Bay Road'

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

The mounting chorus of protests against changing the name of Foul Bay Road to University Way was opposed this morning by a lone vocalist from Oak Bay.

"Foul Bay Road is a dirty, disgusting name which should be thrown in the ash can," said John Cantillon from his house at what he would prefer to call 945 University Way.

"Most of the people who want to keep that unsavory title are a bunch of nostalgic crackpots who refuse to move with the times."

"I represent the non-vocal majority of Oak Bay residents who feel as I do."

"Ridiculous," snorted Deputy Recreation Minister David Turner who lives in the same block as Mr. Cantilion at 933 Foul Bay Road. "We now have enough signatures to kill University Way for all time—and I shall present them to Oak Bay council tonight."

Dr. Turner and his supporters canvassed 100 residents at the Oak Bay end of Foul Bay Road over the weekend and found 80 per cent opposed to changing the name.

Stewart Hagar, who organized a petition at the Victoria end, reported 90 per cent opposed—and Victoria Times columnist Monte Roberts received more than 100 signed coupons rejecting University Way.

One of them was signed by ex-Mayor Percy Scurrell, a former Foul Bay Road resident.

But Mr. Cantillon, a retired industrial engineer who came here from California in 1950, was undaunted.

"I am sick and tired of getting letters addressed to me at Stink Bay Road, Stench Avenue and Foul Dog Road," he complained. "So are many other residents, but they won't come out and say so."

"Don't these petitioners know that Foul Bay Road is a laughing stock in other parts of the city? Why, I've even been called the Mayor of Foul Bay Road."

Mr. Cantillon said the name Foul Bay Road belonged to Victoria's past and should be discarded.

"It can be attributed to three things—foul anchorage of boats, the dumping of sewage from these boats and the old master sewer outlet into Foul Bay."

"The stench from this sewer used to drive people away from the district. But all that was changed when the outlet was installed with agitators and pipes and the sewage was subterranean out into Gonzales Bay."

"Why should our beautiful road be named after a smell that belongs to the past? We might as well call it Duck-a-doo Lane or Old Stench Avenue."

"The trouble is so many of these old Victoria residents refuse to move with the times. They want to live in the past—even the smells of the past."

Mr. Cantillon said two young men with petitions called at his home Sunday afternoon and he told them to "get the hell out."

"They had only about six names between them," he declared.

Meanwhile

By JOHN MIKA

Proponents of a Lady Godiva-type protest against the renaming of Foul Bay Road are engaging in "buffoonery of the barest sort," Mayor R. B. Wilson said today.

Pun intended, the mayor added several more sharp jabs at the campaign opposing renaming of Foul Bay Road, Henderson and Finnerly into University Way.

"The trouble with us Victorians is that we don't like change—period," he said.

"One of the burdens of those engaged in civic government in this area is having to achieve progress without change."

"One could say that changing the name of Foul Bay Road is not progress but I thought it was a degree of progress to consolidate three names for one street, that is Foul Bay, Henderson and Finnerly for University Way."

"However, that may be more change than we can absorb at one time."

"After all, perhaps Foul Bay by any other name would not smell as sweet."

The mayor would not comment on a compromise proposal, supported by Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, to retain the name of Foul Bay Road from water's edge to Fort Street and rename the remaining portion of the thoroughfare to University Way as far as its terminus at the Gordon Head campus.

A letter of protest against changing the name of Foul Bay Road was sent city council by J. A. Hobday, 614 Foul Bay Road, who said friends of five continents with whom he corresponds have been taken with the name and its history.

"Nearly every town on the continent from Hicks Corners to New York has a University Way, Avenue, Street or Road, but I'll wager there is no other city in the world that can boast of having a Foul Bay Road," he said.

"For heaven's sake let us be different and cling to the historical names of the early days in Victoria for these names have a sentimental interest for many of us."

Man Smashed In 8-Floor Fall

First Mishap On High-Rise Construction

A 28-year-old plumber was in critical condition today after falling eight stories from a Douglas Street high-rise apartment project.

David Schellenberg of 974 Bray Street in Langford, plunged more than 64 feet when a platform hoist failed at 10.50 a.m.

WESTCOTT PROJECT

The $1,200,000 12-storey apartment block—to be known as Bickerton Court, 240 Douglas Street—is being built by Westcott Development Ltd.

A spokesman for the firm said it was the first accident occurring during construction of the 12-storey project and the eight-storey Beacon Towers apartment alongside.

Mr. Schellenberg's wife rushed to the hospital after being notified by police. It was not immediately known if the couple had any children.

He was undergoing surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital at press time. He suffered head, leg, arm and internal injuries.

FREE FALL

Mr. Schellenberg was standing on the hoist platform outside the eight floor level, lifting materials into the building when the lifting machinery failed and the platform plunged in a free fall.

An employee of Douglas Plumbing and Heating of Vancouver, he was working at the 12-storey apartment under construction at 240 Douglas Street.

70 Loggers Block Contract Fallers

Loggers involved in a transportation dispute with Hillcrest Lumber Co. Ltd. at Mesachie Lake prevented three contract fallers from going to work at the company's logging operations today.

About 70 loggers are involved in the dispute, and most of these were present outside the company's premises this morning, according to company president Hector Stone.

"They stopped them," Mr. Stone said. "I don't know what we do now, but we're getting pretty fed up."

He said the loggers also had stopped an independent operation in the area from selling logs to the company.

"Yet they say they are not on strike," he said.

Cause of the trouble was the company's cessation of its free bus service between Duncan and Mesachie Lake, west of Lake Cowichan.

The company announced last fall that the service would be discontinued in 1962. Starting Jan. 2, a number of the loggers have gone daily to their regular pickup points, ready for work, then have returned home when no bus arrived. They refuse to provide their own transportation.

Represented by Local 180, IWA, the men claim the bus service was a condition of employment. The company, in turn, says it is not covered in the master contract between union and operators.

MRS. JOYCE STOCKDILL ... long illness

Rites Tuesday For City Clubwoman

Many friends today mourn the death of Mrs. Joyce Stockdill, wife of city architect C. D. Stockdill, who for many years took an active part in the cultural life of this city.

She died at St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Stockdill was president of the University Women's Club in 1957-58 when she represented the organization at the 14th triennial conference of the Canadian Federation of University Women in Montreal.

Widely known here for her generosity and kindness, she took an active interest in art, music and international affairs.

Like her husband, she was an architect. She received a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Manitoba in 1937.

She is survived by the husband, at home, 1552 Olive Drive; three sons, Charles Peter, Thomas Varley and James Dexter, all at home; father, Leo Varley, of Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Hutchison and Mrs. J. E. Elders, both of Winnipeg.

Funeral service will be held at St. Mary's Anglican Church at 3 p.m. Tuesday. Rev. Canon J. J. Jones will officiate.

HUNDREDS OF MOURNERS passed bier of Bishop Hill Sunday as body lay in state in St. Andrew's Cathedral.

400 Pay Respects To Catholic Bishop

More than 400 mourners were at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday afternoon to pay respects to the body of Most Rev. James M. Hill, which will lie in state until funeral services Tuesday.

Bishop Hill died suddenly in St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday morning of a heart attack. Others visited McCall's Funeral Chapel Saturday and Sunday morning as the body of the prelate lay in state there.

Rites will start at the cathedral at 11 a.m., when Pontifical Requiem Mass will be chanted by Most Rev. Sebastiano Baggio, Apostolic delegate to Canada.

Dozens of officials of the Roman Catholic Church will be here for the ceremony, and Victoria's auto dealers will provide 60 cars for their use in the procession from the cathedral to Ross Bay Cemetery.

Knights of Columbus here kept an all-night vigil over the body Sunday night, and plan the same again tonight.

Priests of the diocese will assemble this evening for the Office of the Dead.

VICTORIAN RECAPTURED

A young Victorian with less than a month to serve now faces a longer term for escaping from a prison work camp Sunday, Oakalla officials said today.

Raymond Morris Beck, 21, disappeared from Oakalla Camp No. 3, near Chilliwack, between noon and 2.30 p.m. Sunday.

He was recaptured by the prison staff at 10.30 p.m. and taken to the main Oakalla jail.

Officials said Beck was sentenced in Victoria Feb. 2 to three months for driving an auto without a licence and was transferred to the camp last week.

St. Joseph's Canvassers Given Orders

St. Joseph's Hospital started its "big push" today toward a goal of $350,000 from Greater Victoria.

Canvassers in the general corporations division of the drive received their final instructions from general chairman, G. Fitzpatrick Dunn, at a drive meeting.

Over 100 canvassers, armed with pledge cards and brochures will fan out over Greater Victoria this week to cover the six main business divisions.

These are: accommodation industries, automotive trades, finance, construction, apparel and drygoods and the professions.

Also at the meeting, held at 999 Fort, general corporations chairman Frank Greive outlined the method to be used in the campaign.

IN BUDGET

He said if the canvass is to be successful businesses would have to include the hospital in their budgets over the three-year period of the campaign.

Individual or corporate donations may be made either by cash or cheque or pledged over three years.

The $350,000 will be Greater Victoria's share of $2,700,000 needed by the public hospital if it is to meet the needs of the sick in the future.

Winners of the weekly tournament conducted by the Victoria Unit, American Contract Bridge League, were: Laura Tingley, Eric Goodwin, Harry Rolls and Les Isaacson.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers will meet Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. in the Flame Room of the B.C. Electric Building. W. H. Marks and M. I. G. Bradwell will speak on "When should system plans include extensive underground distribution facilities."

Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Garden Society will hold its annual show in Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall, 912 Vancouver Street, on Friday and Saturday of this week. The show will be held from 2 to 10 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. on Saturday.

The High Commissioner of Ceylon in Ottawa, Dr. G. P. Malalasekera, will arrive in Victoria Friday for a five-day visit as part of a tour of western Canada.

Dr. Malalasekera will pay a courtesy call to the acting premier on Friday at 4.15 p.m. and will visit City Hall at 4.15 p.m.

On Monday he will lunch with the lieutenant-governor. Accompanied by his wife, he will stay in the Empress Hotel during his visit to the city. He will leave for Vancouver by plane on Tuesday, April 10.

MAKING FRIENDS, adjudicator Alice Gates and performers got together this morning as the Greater Victoria Music Festival opened its 1962 sessions with folk dance and singing game classes at Central Junior High School. With Miss Gage, an assistant professor of physical education at Washington State University, are, left to right, Barbara Wight, Linda Stuart, Dale Simonson, Colleen Mills and George Gammon. They are Grade 2 pupils at Oaklands School. Folk dance sessions continue Tuesday and speech arts classes will begin in St. Andrew's Hall at 9 a.m.

Loganberry stalks flew into place under onslaught of volunteer.

LOGANBERRY-PIE FANS—EVERY ONE OF 'EM

Angels of mercy in the guise of cleaning company employees, Central Saanich volunteer firemen, and Saanich fruit growers Sunday lifted a great load of care from the shoulders of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hancock, 4888 Wesley Road.

On March 20, Mr. Hancock, 66, the Cleaners dealer in Central Saanich, who owns his own truck, was seriously hurt in an accident with the truck. He is recovering at Gorge Road Hospital, but hanging over his head was a job on his two acres of loganberries.

Each spring the stalks must be raised on to wires for clean growing and easy picking. He and Mrs. Hancock usually did the job in two weeks.

The crop this year would have been lost without help. This was offered by his friends, fellow firemen, and colleagues at his work, who spent a busy six hours Sunday getting the job done. The men brought their own food, which happened to be leftovers from a picnic held the night before.

Even in Bug-Shaped Elevator Stomach Stays 'Put' on Way Up

By PAT DUFOUR

I went up into space Saturday. That is, in the 600-foot Space Needle that dominates the fantastic acreage of Century 21 World Fair in Seattle. And . . . it didn't hurt a bit!

Travelling in one of three bug-shaped elevators that climb at a rate of almost 40 miles an hour, there was no sensation of having parked one's stomach at the base.

"This," explains Bill McFarland, information manager, "is because each elevator is completely pressurized."

View from an observation platform that tops the restaurant at the bulbous peak is an experience in itself, especially when one sees the monorail weave, like a pepped-up worm through streets of skyscrapers from the fair to downtown Seattle.

Entering the fair grounds, first impression is of delicious confusion. With only three weeks to go before opening day on April 21, many of the exhibits are still in the initial stages.

THINGS TO COME

In many places steel girders are only indication of things to come. You dodge trucks continually, all the while keeping a weather eye open to avoid being doused by crews hosing strong jets of water on walks that are finished. You clamber over piles of rubble to get a closer view of exhibits and everywhere hundreds of trees lie on their sides, waiting to become part of the ambitious landscaping that's cost $330,000. (In Linden, Wash., is $30,000 worth of lush lawn that will be rolled into place like a carpet nearer to opening day.)

Workers hammer, saw and paint around the clock and every official insists that all props will be in readiness when the curtain rings up.

Canadian exhibit is the one most nearly completed, Canada being the first of the 40 countries participating to sign up. Huge bronze figures, set against a backdrop of imaginative pools and landscaping, form the setting for an impressive building that has the national coat of arms emblazoned at the entrance.

Inside are displays on cancer research, space technology and the opening up of the polar regions. There are also examples of Canada's mapping systems.

"And . . . Mr. McFarland hands Canada a verbal bouquet."

Spring Hat Show Realized $100

A bevy of floral spring hats rivalled attractive decorations of spring blossoms at an Easter Bonnet Show arranged by the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) on Saturday afternoon in the Golden Slipper Supper Club. The affair realized $100.

Modelling the hats, presented by Miss Frith's Millinery were Mrs. L. Johnson, Mrs. G. Barber, Mrs. M. Montgomery and Miss Heather Murray.

Mrs. Montgomery first showed a dramatic rough straw lilac-toned cloche with a wide velvet band at base of the crown.

Mrs. Barber appeared in a perky, rolled brim Breton in navy that uniquely featured the brim turned up or down to give two hats in one.

True hat elegance was displayed by Heather Murray with a black, large brim Vogue model that had both front and back interest.

Fruit trim at base of the crown featured a beige rough texture hat modelled by Mrs. Johnson. The brim of this hat was in keeping with the wide trend.

Color was a keynote in the hats, with many models in greens, blues, oranges, and pinks. As well as the rough textured look, many soft petal-like flowers prevailed.

Daffodils and heather centred tea tables. Plum blossoms, daffodils and heather flanked the commentator's table.

Mrs. Peter Ramsay, wife of the commanding officer of the regiment, welcomed those present and introduced W. Sinclair who commented the show.

President of the auxiliary.

'MARCHER' INVITED IN BY SUPER DIPLOMAT

MONTREAL (CP)—A ban-the-bomb demonstrator, anxious to picket the United States consulate here arrived at the consulate before a protest march was to start Saturday.

He rang the consulate bell and inquired: "Is this the place where I'm supposed to march?"

Consulate officials assured him he had the correct address and invited him to wait inside until the other marchers arrived.

50 Firemen Fight Blaze

A fire which ripped through a Colwood supermarket early Sunday morning caused $400,000 damage.

Fifty firefighters with seven trucks battled the explosion-racked conflagration for two hours before gaining control.

Shooting flames from the Shop-Easy Foodmart near Colwood Corner, could be seen miles away as the blaze lit up the dawn.

The store, opened in January, 1960, is a total loss.

Cause of the fire—largest in the Victoria vicinity this year—is unknown.

No injuries were reported.

Marshall-Wells Hardware adjacent to the supermarket was part of a multi-million dollar shopping plaza—had smoke and water damage. A vacant shop in the opposite flank received similar damage.

The alarm was recorded in the Colwood Volunteer Fire Hall at 5:20 a.m.

Twenty-five men and two trucks rushed to the scene.

They soon were joined by 18 Langford firemen and three trucks, and a Royal Canadian Navy detachment of seven men and two trucks from nearby Belmont Park.

'Didn't Have a Chance' Says Chief

Heat of the blaze was so intense normal frontal assault firefighting methods could not be used.

"We were forced to use the heavy brick walls at the sides of the store as protection and shoot in the water over them," said Colwood chief, Dick Emery.

There was no hope of saving the building, he said.

"When we arrived it was completely gone... it didn't have a chance."

Two hours of firefighting finally brought the flames under control, but water was poured on the store until 3 p.m.

Countless small explosions of tinned goods sent "shrapnel" flying from the ashes.

Only part of the store remaining is a heavy cement

block safe containing money, coins and store records.

It was opened at 1:15 p.m.

The last Colwood fireman left the scene at 6 p.m.

An official from the B.C. Fire Marshal's office began investigating the blaze with Chief Emery at 1 p.m. today.

Shop-Easy officials who held an emergency meeting Sunday night said the supermarket will be reconstructed.

"We intend to begin work almost immediately," said district manager George Sargison.

He said the new store—larger and more modern—should be completed in four months.

Meanwhile, the 35 Colwood branch employees will be relocated in other company stores around Victoria.

REBEL CHINA TROOPS 'TAKE TO THE HILLS'

HONG KONG (AP)—An independent Hong Kong newspaper today claimed that more than 1,000 rebellious Communist Chinese troops in South China have taken to the hills to wage guerrilla war against the Chinese regime.

The Chinese-language New Life Evening Post, quoting recent arrivals from the mainland, said the troops have been joined by militia and hungry villagers and had become "the strongest anti-Communist military force in South China."

The report could not be confirmed.

Light Cut Less Than Figured

The reduction in electric light bills for Victoria area residences, set by the new B.C. Hydro, will be even smaller than at first supposed.

On the basis of rates announced Saturday it was calculated that most Victorians using more than the basic amount of electricity would save $2.10 per month. However, it now appears this figure is high.

It was disclosed today that the escalator scale of consumption charges used by the B.C. Electric in Victoria was slightly different than that adopted in the new scale of rates, which went into effect Sunday.

In Victoria, the first phase, on which the highest rate was charged, covered the use of the first 70 kilowatts. Then the charge for the next 225 kilowatts was cut in half.

Under the new scale the first phase, at the highest rate, is for 100 kilowatts, with the drop coming for the next 200.

The result of this is that Victorians formerly paid $9.18 for the first 300 kilowatts.

Under the new scale they will pay $7.90.

The reduction is thus $1.28, not $2.10 as thought in the original announcement.

Victorians will save slightly on the next 400 kilowatts they use, with the new charge being .9 cents instead of one cent.

The following table shows, on a basis of a house using 795 kilowatts per month, the comparison of how bills will work out:

Former Rate—
First 70 kw at 5c	$ 3.50
Next 225 kw at 2.5c	5.63
Next 500 kw at 1c	5.00
Total bill	$14.13
New Rate—
First 100 kw at 3.5c	$ 3.50
Next 200 kw at 2.2c	4.40
Next 400 kw at .9c	3.60
Remaining 95 kw at 1.25c	1.19
Total bill	$12.69
Saving	$ 1.44

WOMEN'S PEACE GROUP FLIES TO PROD GENEVA

GENEVA (UPI)—A delegation of 51 women from the United States flew into Geneva today to urge the 17 nations negotiating disarmament here to agree speedily and ban nuclear testing permanently.

Representing the "Women Strike for Peace" movement, the organization includes Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., wife of the integration movement leader, and Mrs. Cyrus Eaton, whose Canadian-born industrialist husband has visited with Soviet Premier Khrushchev several times.

Bombs, Holdups Hit Algiers Again

ALGERS (Reuters)—The terrorist Secret Army Organization today launched a new wave of shootings, bombings and holdups in Algiers.

After the quietest Sunday this year in Algeria, the Secret Army today wounded five Moslems with plastic bombs, a grenade and a sub-machine gun attack and got away with 249,900 new francs ($49,800) in three armed robberies.

Three Moslems were wounded when a grenade was thrown into a Moslem store on the fringe of the Casbah, another in one of six plastic bomb explosions, and a fifth by a sub-machine-gun burst fired from a car as the grenade-throwers sped away.

In Oran, western Algeria, terrorists firing from a car killed one policeman and wounded a second and other terrorists killed one Moslem and wounded at least six others in machine-gun attacks on groups of workmen.

However, the French Army in the midst of a stepped-up drive against the terrorists—announced it had captured 38 members of a 400-man Secret Army commando unit which attacked French army command posts in western Algeria last Wednesday.

The army said seven officers, including a top leader identified as Lieut. Delhoume, were captured when the army counter-attacked after the Secret Army captured the three posts.

Five heavy machine-guns and at least 15 other automatic weapons were taken from the terrorists.

The army high command said ex-Colonel Jean Gardes, sentenced to death in absentia for his part in last year's abortive Algerian military coup, led that gang that attacked the three posts.

Now that the Soviet Union has taken these measures to strengthen its defences, Zorin said, the USSR "could not have foreigners on its territory." He did not go into detail about the Russian military measures.

These measures, Zorin told the 17-nation disarmament conference, were prompted by the Berlin situation and "the Western military buildup."

He said that was why the Russians backed away from their former agreement in principle for international control posts to be stationed on Soviet territory to supervise a nuclear test ban treaty.

Driving Student Kills Boy

VANCOUVER (CP)—A six-year-old boy was dragged to his death Sunday by a car driven by a woman taking a driving lesson.

Police had to jack up the front of the car to extricate William Arthur and his crumpled tricycle. He died on the way to hospital.

RCMP in suburban Burnaby said the 46-year-old woman's husband was teaching her how to park on a shopping centre parking lot when the car lurched across a sidewalk and carried the youngster through a restaurant window.

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Paula Hecker and her husband as Max John Hecker who live about two blocks from the Arthur family near the shopping centre.

WIRE BRIEFS

Paret's Condition Grows Worse

NEW YORK (UPI)—Boxer Benny (Kid) Paret, still in a coma more than a week after being knocked out by Emilio Griffith, has developed pneumonia, officials at Roosevelt Hospital reported today. In addition, Paret's coma has "deepened," the hospital said.

5 Convicts Scale San Quentin Wall

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—Five convicts, three of them serving only light sentences, scaled a 16-foot wall at San-Quentin prison early today with a ladder and made good their escape, prison officials said.

Roads Awash, Bridges Out As Floods Hit Maritimes

HALIFAX (CP)—Floods spawned by torrential rain and melting snow blocked highways, washed out bridges, knocked down power lines and damaged buildings in many parts of the Maritime provinces today.

Damage counted in the hundreds of thousands of dollars continued mounting.

Homes had to be evacuated in several communities, including the New Brunswick city of Moncton. Residents there called it the worst flood in memory.

Flooded roads and washed out bridges stopped highway traffic on all main routes leading out of Nova Scotia.

A flood on the Maravee River knocked out power lines serving a section of northern Cape Breton Island. Emergency generators were pressed into use in the town of Cheticamp, N.S.

GIRL MISSING.

A 15-year-old girl was missing at Pleasant Bay, 25 miles north of Cheticamp. She was feared to have drowned when a highway was washed away.

Provincial highways departments reported heavy damage to bridges. A 26-foot span near Middleton, N.S., went out during the night. Prince Edward Island reported many small bridges carried away.

Route 1, the main highway through the Annapolis Valley, was flooded in several places.

More than five inches of rain fell at Fredericton and Saint John, N.B., during the weekend.

Swollen river waters claimed the St. Peter's Bridge early today, cutting off traffic between Charlottetown and the eastern Prince Edward Island town of Southport.

U.S. Works With Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will finance an unprecedented $2,000,000 medical research program by Polish and American scientists, the U.S. public health service said today.

The program will be the first of its kind undertaken with a Communist country.

Some phases are scheduled to extend over a period of at least five years.

'First Step Toward Meet'

LONDON (CP)—Published reports suggest that Britain has finally taken the first step towards calling a conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, probably in late summer or early fall.

Newspapers agree that telegrams went out this weekend from London to various capitals, marking the first official approach.

The Sunday Times says the suggested time-span within which the conference should take place runs from June to September or October.

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

APRIL 2

Two Indians from Beaver Lake, 68 miles from the forks of Quesnelle, aroused interest among townsmen, who noted that their complexions were a shade of two darker than customarily seen here. The Indians are guides in the employ of George Weaver, a well-known prospector.

Thomas Harris was sworn in and took his seat in the Assembly, representing Esquimalt town.

The Assembly acceded to the governor's request for a vote of $400 for the establishment of a smallpox hospital, stipulating that it be built near the present hospital.

There was some talk of building a road to Sooke, but the matter was dismissed in the Assembly as of no importance.

'A Brighter Later Life' —Series Starts Saturday

How do you intend to live in your later years?

There are two ways to grow old, says Howard Whitman, noted writer on human affairs and social problems.

You can sit idly by, slowly dying in your rocking chair, while the world goes on without you.

In a special series of 12 illuminating articles, beginning in the Times Saturday, Mr. Whitman charts the courses you should follow to make your later years the best and most interesting of your life.

Here is a blueprint for enriching your years. After retirement.

Mr. Whitman tells you how many other people have made their later years their golden years by discovering new avenues to creative talents, by developing new hobbies and interests and even launching new careers which made their old jobs seem pale by comparison.

And, best of all, he tells you what you should be doing NOW to make your later life so happy, interesting and rich that you'll wonder why you ever thought youth was the best time of life.

Don't miss a single one of these helpful articles. "A Brighter Later Life" comes to you as a special bonus. Look for it on Saturday.

Mr. Uncle Zeke hopes they'll hold that Lady Godiva ride. Sez it's years since he saw a white horse.

Some folks believe that what y' don't know won't hurt y'—an' they try t' live as painlessly as possible.

On this Col'mbia thing, comparin' federal an' provincial power, looks like th' unit-o' measurement's goin' t' be a volte-face.

'Only the Nostalgic Crackpots Want to Live on Stink Bay Road'

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
The mounting chorus of protests against changing the name of Foul Bay Road to University Way was opposed this morning by a lone vocalist from Oak Bay.

should be thrown in the trash can," said John Castillon from his house at what he would prefer to call 945 University Way.

"Most of the people who want to keep that unsavory title are a bunch of nostalgic crackpots who refuse to move with the times."

"I represent the non-vocal majority of Oak Bay residents who feel as I do."

"Ridiculous," snorted Deputy Recreation Minister David Turner who lives in the same block as Mr. Castillon at 933 Foul Bay Road.

"We now have enough signatures to kill University Way for all time—and I shall present them to Oak Bay council tonight."

Dr. Turner and his supporters canvassed 100 residents at the Oak Bay end of Foul Bay Road over the weekend and found 80 per cent opposed to changing the name.

Stewart Hagar, who organized a petition at the Victoria club, reported 90 per cent opposed—and Victoria Times columnist Monte Roberts received more than 100 signed coupons rejecting University Way.

400 Pay Respects To Catholic Bishop

More than 400 mourners were at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday afternoon to pay respects to the body of Most Rev. James M. Hill, which will lie in state until funeral services Tuesday.

Bishop Hill died suddenly in St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday morning of a heart attack. Others visited McCall's Funeral Chapel Saturday and Sunday morning as the body of the prelate lay in state there.

VICTORIAN RECAPTURED

A young Victorian—with less than a month to serve now faces a longer term for escaping from a prison work camp Sunday, Oakalla officials said today.

St. Joseph's Canvassers Given Orders

St. Joseph's Hospital started its "big push" today toward a goal of $350,000 from Greater Victoria.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

All former members of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles Battalion and the 8th Brigade, CEF, will be welcomed at a reunion smoker in the Bay Street Armories on Saturday at 8 p.m.

The sun shone, the water glistened and the beaches received their baptism as Victorians celebrated a weekend foretaste of summer.

Well-known Victoria naturalist and conservationist Freeman King today was appointed by Recreation and Conservation Minister Earle C. Westwood as chairman of the board of Eves Provincial Park at Westholme.

A free color film showing in the Victoria Public Library from 3 to 4 p.m. Wednesday will feature: "Birds of the Seashore," "Salmon Struggle for Survival" and "The Saddle-maker."

Department store officials said sun glasses "went like mad" Saturday and "people were milling around" looking for bathing caps and sun glasses.

Temperatures highs Saturday ranged from 54 on the seashore to 61 inland.

LOGANBERRY PIE FANS —EVERY ONE OF 'EM

Angels of mercy in the guise of cleaning company employees, Central Saanich volunteer firemen, and Saanich fruit growers Sunday lifted a great load of care from the shoulders of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hancock, 4883 Wesley Road.

Members of the board will be Dr. John Chapman, Richard Moyer, Alex Gray, and Harold Walker, all of Victoria.

The 50 acres of land which constitutes the park were donated by Mrs. Janet Goodall of Westholme, who continues to live on the site. The park will be maintained as a wildlife sanctuary, and there will be no development other than the opening of scenic trails.

The High Commissioner of Ceylon in Ottawa, Dr. G. P. Malalasekera, will arrive in Victoria Friday for a five-day visit as part of a tour of western Canada.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Flame Room of the B.C. Electric Building. W. H. Marks and M. I. G. Bradwell will speak on "When should system plans include extensive underground distribution facilities."

Individual or corporate donations may be made either by cash or cheque or pledged over three years.

The crop this year would have been lost without help. This was offered by his friends, fellow firemen, and colleagues at his work; who spent a busy six hours Sunday getting the job done. The men brought their own food, which happened to be leftovers from a picnic held the night before.

Winners of the weekly tournament conducted by the Victoria Unit, American Contract Bridge League, were: Laura Tingley, Eric Goodwin, Harry Rolls and Les Isaacson.

The Class C park was created about three months ago. Its operation will be sponsored by Victoria Natural History Society.

Dr. Malalasekera will pay a courtesy call to the acting premier on Friday at 3:30, and will visit City Hall at 4:15 p.m. On Monday he will lunch with the lieutenant-governor.

Accompanied by his wife, he will stay in the Empress Hotel during his visit to the city. He will leave for Vancouver by plane on Tuesday, April 10.

One of them was signed by ex-Mayor Percy Scourrah, a former Foul Bay Road resident.

But Mr. Castillon, a retired industrial engineer who came here from California in 1950, was undaunted.

"I am sick and tired of getting letters addressed to me at Stink Bay Road, Stench Avenue and Foul Dog Road," he complained.

"So are many other residents, but they won't come out and say so."

"Don't these petitioners know that Foul Bay Road is a laughing stock in other parts of the city? Why, I've even been called the Mayor of Foul Bay Road."

Mr. Castillon said the name Foul Bay Road belonged to Victoria's past and should be discarded.

"It can be attributed to three things—foul anchorage of boats, the dumping of sewage from these boats and the old master sewer outlet into Foul Bay."

The stench from this sewer used to drive people away from the district. But all that was changed when the outlet was installed with agitators and pipes and the sewage was submersed out into Gonzales Bay.

"Why should our beautiful road be named after a smell that belongs to the past? We might as well call it Duck-adoo Lane or Old Stench Avenue."

"The trouble is so many of these old Victoria residents refuse to move with the times. They want to live in the past—even the smells of the past."

Mr. Castillon said two young men with petitions called at his home Sunday afternoon and he told them to "get the hell out."

"They had only about six names between them," he declared.

Proponents of a Lady Godiva-type protest against the renaming of Foul Bay Road are engaging in "buffoonery of the barest sort," Mayor R. B. Wilson said today.

Pun intended, the mayor added several more sharp jabs at the campaign opposing renaming of Foul Bay Road, Henderson and Finnerty into University Way.

"The trouble with us Victorians is that we don't like change—period," he said.

"One of the burdens of those engaged in civic government in this area is having to achieve progress without change."

"One could say that changing the name of Foul Bay Road is not progress but I thought it was a degree of progress to consolidate three names for one street, that is Foul Bay, Henderson and Finnerty for University Way."

"However, that may be more change than we can absorb at one time."

Light Rate Cut 'Token Gesture'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Liberal leader Ray Perrault said today power rate cuts announced by Premier Bennett last week were nothing but a token gesture to B.C. consumers.He said in a statement when the government took over the B.C. Electric last August it grabbed $45,000,000 in deferred income tax payments which the company had set aside over a number of years.He said the $5,500,000 B.C. consumers will save through power reductions is insignificant in the light of the money the government took.

'Complete Rest' Ordered for Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Jawaharlal Nehru, 72, India's prime minister, has cancelled all engagements for today and Tuesday on medical advice that he take a complete rest, it was announced today.Light Cut Less Than FiguredThe reduction in electric light bills for Victoria area residences, set by the new B.C. Hydro, will be even smaller than at first supposed.On the basis of rates announced Saturday it was calculated that most Victorians using more than the basic amount of electricity would save $2.10 per month.
However, it now appears this figure is high.It was disclosed today that the escalator scale of consumption charges used by the B.C. Electric in Victoria was slightly different than that adopted in the new scale of rates, which went into effect Sunday.In Victoria, the first phase, on which the highest rate was charged, covered the use of the first 70 kilowatts. Then the charge for the next 225 kilowatts was cut in half.Under the new scale the first phase, at the highest rate, is for 100 kilowatts, with the drop coming for the next 200.The result of this is that Victorians formerly paid $9.18 for the first 300 kilowatts.

Under the new scale they will pay $7.90.

The reduction is, thus $1.28, not $2.10 as thought in the original announcement.Victorians will save slightly on the next 400 kilowatts they use, with the new charge being 9 cents instead of one cent.On this basis the maximum saving on a Victoria light bill will work out to $1.68 per month on 700 kilowatts, then drops levelling off at a $1.44 saving at the 795 kilowatt figure.The following table shows, on a basis of a house using 795 kilowatts per month, the comparison of how bills will work out:

$60 Million Loan
For B.C. HydroSanction for the new B.C.
Hydro and Power Authority to borrow $60,848,007 was given by order-in-council Friday.The cabinet order, which was not filed until late in the day, also limits total borrowing power of the Crown corporation to $500,000,000 — unconditionally guaranteed by the province.The $60,848,007 represents the amount paid last week to B.C. Power Corp., parent company of B.C. Electric taken over by the government to form the new hydro agency with B.C. Power Commission.
The order escaped notice until this morning, but appearsto explain the premier's reluctance to say where the $60,000, 000 referred to in a press conference in Vancouver Friday was to come from.'GOOD CHEQUE'
The payment to B.C. Power Corp. was "a good cheque," was all the premier would say.The money may be borrowed on notes at a maximum 5½ per cent rate of interest, or without interest, maturing either Dec. 31, or payable on demand, at the discretion of the minister of finance.Payment on the notes may be made at the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in the principal cities of Canada.COLWOOD SUPERMART FIRE LOSS $400,000Three Brigades Battle BlazeA fire which ripped through a Colwood supermarket early Sunday morning caused $400,000 damage.Fifty firefighters with seven trucks battled the explosion racked conflagration for two hours before gaining control.Shooting flames from the Shop-Easy Foodmart, near Colwood Corner, could be seen miles away as the blaze lit up the dawn. The store, opened in January, 1960, is a total loss.Cause of the fire—largest in the Victoria vicinity this year —is unknown.No injuries were reported.
Marshall-Weiss Hardware adjacent to the supermarket—part of a multi-million dollarshopping plaza — had smoke and water damage. A vacant shop in the opposite flank received similar damage.The alarm was recorded in the Colwood Volunteer Fire Hall at 5:20 a.m.Twenty-five men and two trucks rushed to the scene.They soon were joined by 18 Langford firemen and three trucks and a Royal Canadian Navy detachment of seven men and two trucks from nearby Belmont Park.

'Didn't Have a Chance' Says Chief

Heat of the blaze was so intense normal, frontal assault firefighting methods could not be used."We were forced to use the heavy brick walls at the sides of the store as protection and shoot in the water over them," said Colwood chief Dick Emery.There was no hope of saving the building, he said."When we arrived it was completely gone... we didn't have a chance."Two hours of firefighting finally brought the flames under control, but water was poured on the store until 3 p.m.Countless small explosions of tinned goods sent "shrapnel" flying from the ashes.Only part of the store remaining is a heavy cement block safe containing money, coins and store records.

It was opened at 1:15 p.m.

The last Colwood fireman left the scene at 6 p.m.An official from the B.C.
Fire Marshal's office began investigating the blaze with Chief Emery at 1 p.m. today.Shop-Easy officials who held an emergency meeting Sunday night said the supermarket will be reconstructed."We intend to begin work almost immediately," said district manager George Sargi-son.He said the new store—larger and more modern — should be completed in four months.Meanwhile, the 35 Colwood branch employees will be relocated in other company stores around Victoria.

NEW STORE IN FOUR MONTHS

Immediate reconstruction of Colwood supermarket, shown here at height of Sunday morning fire, is planned by Shop-Easy officials, who said it will becompleted in four months. Fire Chief Dick Emery and an official of B.C. Fire Marshal's office started investigation this afternoon.Reds Want to Shield
'New Military Defences'

(Times News Services)

GENEVA — Soviet delegate
Valerian Zorin said today theKremlin changed its mind about allowing nuclear testban inspectors on Russian soil because of new military mea-sures taken by the Soviet Union.These measures, Zorin told the 17-nation disarmament conference, were prompted by the Berlin situation and "the Western military buildup."He said that was why the Russians backed away from their former agreement in principle for international control posts to be stationed on Soviet territory to supervise a nuclear test ban treaty.Now that the Soviet Union has taken these measures to strengthen its defences, Zorin said, the USSR "could not have foreigners on its territory." He did not go into detail about the Russian military measures.REBEL CHINA TROOPS
'TAKE TO THE HILLS'HONG KONG (AP) — An independent Hong Kong newspaper today claimed that more than 1,000 rebellious Communist Chinese troops in South China have taken to the hills to wage guerrilla war against the Chinese regime.The Chinese-language New Life Evening Post, quoting recent arrivals from the mainland, said the troops have been joined by militia and hungry villagers and had become "the strongest anti-Communist military force in South China."

The report could not be confirmed.

Roads, Bridges Out In Eastern FloodsHALIFAX (CP) — Floods spawned by torrential rain and melting snow blocked highways, washed out bridges, knocked down power lines and damaged buildings in many parts of the Maritime provinces today.Damage counted in the hundreds of thousands of dollars continued mounting.Homes had to be evacuated in several communities, including the New Brunswick city of Moncton. Residents there called it the worst flood in memory.Flooded roads and washed out bridges stopped highway traffic on all main routes leading out of Nova Scotia.A flood on the Maravee River knocked out power lines serving a section of northern Cape Breton Island. Emergency generators were pressed into use in the town of Cheticamp,

GIRL MISSING

A 15-year-old girl was missing at Pleasant Bay, 25 miles north of Cheticamp. She was feared to have drowned when a highway was washed away.Provincial highways departments reported heavy damage to bridges: A 20-foot span near Middleton, N.S., went out during the night. Prince Edward Island reported many small bridges carried away.Route 1, the main highway through the Annapolis Valley, was flooded in several places.More than five inches of rain fell at Fredericton and Saint John, N.B. during the weekend.Swollen river waters claimed the St. Peter's Bridge early today, cutting off traffic between Charlottetown and the eastern Prince Edward Island town of Souris.Driving Student Kills BoyVANCOUVER (CP) — A six-year-old boy was dragged to his death Sunday by a car driven by a woman taking a driving lesson.Police had to jack up the front of the car to extricate William Arthur and his crumpled tricycle. He died on the way to hospital.RCMP in suburban Burnaby said the 46-year-old woman's husband was teaching her how to park on a shopping centre parking lot when the car junched across a sidewalk and carried the youngster through a restaurant window.Police identified the woman as Mrs. Paula Hecker and her husband as Max John Hecker, who live about two blocks from the Arthur family near the shopping centre.The American delegate dismissed Premier Khrushchev's claim that a Feb. 2 Soviet underground explosion was definitely merely to "trick the West" into admitting they detected it with only existing national detection systems.Dean said the Soviet test
